THE COVER—In chapter houses all over the country these last few weeks, Thetas have been busily decorating Christmas trees, packing baskets for the needy, playing Santa for underprivileged children, delighting in the warm friendship of chapter parties and the gaiety of holiday balls, and thrilling to the beautiful music and impressive worship services of the season.

At Iowa State College, Betty Elliott and Donna Reeves wielded the hammer and hung the greenery at the door, while Marilyn Hughes and Jean Tibbett rummaged in storage boxes for ribbons and bells. These Gamma Pichapter members, like their counterparts in every Theta house, send warmest wishes for a bright New Year to all their "sisters in fraternity."

Season's Greetings

Grand Council wishes to all Thetas, near and far, the happiest of Holidays. May your hearts be filled with hope and good cheer especially at this season when the spirit of good will should reign over all the world.

Soon after you receive this magazine, the New Year will roll round, and with it the month in which we have our own special festival of Founders' Day. As we gather at the festal board, as we sing our songs and give our Friendship pennies, let us remember not only the four Founders who belong to all of us, but also the girls and women, Thetas all, who helped to build our fraternity. No task too small, no undertaking too great, but someone has been found to carry it through.

"May all that is light hearted and strong hearted in our festival crown their efforts and verify their dearest hopes."

Grand Council Visits Institute of Logopedics

Theta Contributions to Go for Housing

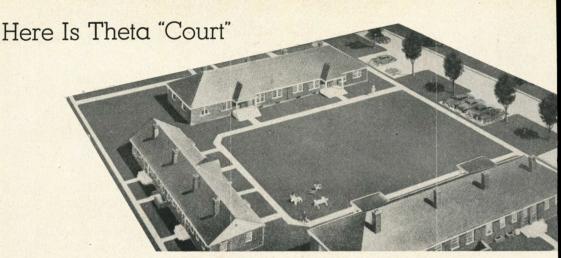

In order to visit the Institute of Logopedics and gain firsthand knowledge of it, Grand Council members held their autumn meeting in Wichita, Kans., Oct. 20-24.

They, joined by the fraternity editor, inspected the physical plant, talked with staff members, watched children under treatment, visited classes and relaxed in the home-like apartments where patients live. The functional construction of the plant, with each dollar spent showing in usefulness, the patience and skill and selflessness of the staff members, the non-institutional atmosphere—these, plus the intense need for help of the children, were the dominant impressions created.

With this immediate knowledge of the work the Institute is doing, Grand Council decided that the fraternity's contributions are to go toward lessening the indebtedness on the physicalplant itself. Kappa Alpha Theta is now adding enough money to the amount already given the Institute, some of which has gone for other purposes, to pay the $40,000 cost of one four-plex apartment building. It is the hope and plan that enough money be given in the future to pay for two more four-plexes, the entire group making up a court, as pictured on the following page.

This use of the fraternity's gifts affords a tangible product which can bear the name of Kappa Alpha Theta. At the same time, it makes it possible for other funds available to the Institute to be transferred to other phases, such as teacher training and research.

Here is an artist's drawing of a court such as Theta is sponsoring at the Institute of Logopedics. Money for one of the three buildings has already been given. Each building contains four apartments, each having living-dining room, kitchen, two bedrooms and bath. A housemother and two or three children live in each apartment.

Council Meets Wichita Alumnae

Three Changes Made in Committee Personnel

Three changes in the chairmanship of national committees have been announced recently by Grand Council.

Mrs. James H. Moore has succeeded Mrs. D. Bligh Grasett as chairman of the finance committee. Mrs. Grasett, who also holds the position of convention manager, will continue to serve as a member of the finance committee.

Mrs. Don Hogate is adding the duties of pledge education chairman to her Grand Council responsibilities. National second vice president, she succeeds Mrs. W. T. Grimm as pledge education chairman.

Marjorie Montrose has been named to the newly created chairmanship of press relations. This position was created in order to lighten the duties of Mrs. George Banta, Jr., who has handled publicity and press relations along with her work as public relations chairman. Mrs. Banta continues in the public relations post and also serves as Theta's Panhellenic delegate and as a member of the research and public relations committee of NPC.

These new chairmen are listed in the directory pages of the magazine, and their home addresses may be found there.

Tulsa Installation Scheduled for February

Grand Council, in its fall meeting, set February as the installation date for the fraternity's newest chapter, which will be at the University of Tulsa. This action follows the final ratification at Grand Convention in June of the petition of Theta Theta, a local sorority on the Tulsa campus, which was sponsored by the Tulsa Alumnæ chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Since Convention's action, Theta Theta Theta has successfully participated in rushing, pledging 22 girls. The original group had been formed around a nucleus of six Theta transfers from other schools, augmented by the pledging of four girls last February, immediately after the local sorority was organized.

Officers who will be present for the February installation include Grand Council members Helen French, president, and Louise Crawford, first vice president, and District XII's president, Wanda Buchanan.

Introducing the University of Tulsa

The University of Tulsa traces its origin to a missionary's class for six Indian maidens in Muskogee, Indian Territory, shortly before 1850. Now, only a century later, this tiny class has grown into a university with more than 5,000 students and with an extensive campus.

The tiny school in the middle of Indian Territory had several names, but finally became Henry Kendall College in 1893. By the turn of the century, however, the little mud-streeted cattle and Indian town of Tulsa had obtained the college. Two buildings were built two miles from the village, and the faculty members hunted on the campus grounds. By the time the college was ready to open, the Congress and the President of the United States had decided that the Territory should become a state. The bell in the tower of Kendall Hall was chosen to ring out the news in 1907 that Oklahoma was now a state.

The gusher effect of the oil men and companies that came to Tulsa to make their head-quarters made itself felt on the college. Building by building, through the years, was granted by the men who had found their wealth in the sub-strata of Oklahoma's red earth. Soon the names above the carved doorways became the roster of those who had been successful in the oil fields.

Now the University is composed of seven divisions: the Henry Kendall College of Liberal Arts, the College of Business Administration, the College of Petroleum Sciences and Engineering, the College of Fine Arts, the Graduate Division, the School of Law and the Downtown Division.

Six national fraternities for women now have chapters on the Tulsa campus. These groups, and the year in which its chapter was established, are: Chi Omega, 1929; Delta Delta Delta, 1931; Delta Gamma, 1947; Kappa Delta, 1937; Kappa Kappa Gamma, 1946, and Phi Mu, 1939. These chapters average 50 members, and operate under a quota system which permits 25 pledges in the fall and an additional five in the second semester. The lodge system is used on the Tulsa campus, and each of the women's fraternities has its own lodge.

Girls from 29 states and five foreign countries are enrolled at Tulsa this fall. The majority of the out-of-town girls live in the new Lottie Jane Mabee Hall for Women, but those who prefer may live in the city of Tulsa.

The University of Tulsa is fully accredited. It is included on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Memberships are also held in the Association of American Colleges and in the American Council on Education. The University is approved by the American Association of University Women and has a chapter of Mortar Board.

Mary Clay Williams, director of personnel at Tulsa, writes that "Theta Theta Theta is made up of exceptionally fine girls, and the group has achieved an outstanding position on campus. The chapter has won the respect and good will of the campus."

The president of Tulsa, Dr. C. I. Pontius, says, "We will welcome Kappa Alpha Theta to our campus and pledge you our whole-hearted cooperation and support." Theta, in turn, is proud to have the University of Tulsa as the home of its newest chapter.

Do You Have Your New Songbook?

The newly published songbook of Kappa Alpha Theta, edited by Hazel Stebbins, includes both new songs and excellent arrangements of old favorites.

Attractively bound, the books sell for $1.50 a copy. Orders should be sent to Central Office, with checks payable to Kappa Alpha Theta.

Council Asks Study Of Theta's Role in Geriatrics

Consider Possibility Of Home for Older Thetas

By HELEN S. FRENCH, Grand President

The matter of a Home for Older Thetas is one which has appeared on many Convention programs, and this past year was no exception. At our last business session, the following recommendation was introduced and unanimously carried: "that a committee be appointed by Grand Council to investigate the possibility of establishing a home for older Thetas."

Grand Council has taken one step in the direction suggested by the Convention. We have asked the alumnæ chapter whose delegate proposed the recommendation to serve as the committee of investigation. This chapter is unable to undertake the responsibility this would entail, and at the moment we are at a standstill.

The process of investigation of the various angles of a Home or Foundation of this kind might be arduous, but it might also be interesting and informative. If there is an alumnæ chapter which would like to volunteer this service for the fraternity, I would like to hear from them. In the meantime, I should like to have the ideas of any of our members who have been giving this home some thought. The wording of the recommendation binds us to nothing but an investigation, but we should get started on that in order to have a report in two years.

There are a few facts that we must all have in mind when making such an investigation or in planning for anything which is so far outside our present interests. First, Kappa Alpha Theta is a college fraternity. It is organized to be of all the help possible to the generation of girls going through their four years of college. Whether we have the right to interest ourselves in the problems of geriatrics, no matter how pressing they may be, is, I believe, a question to be considered.

Furthermore, every cent received from the members of this fraternity is allocated by our laws to some definite purpose. Our Scholarship Fund, our Magazine and Life Membership Funds, our Friendship and Philanthropy Funds are planned for and budgeted by our Constitution. Any money raised for a Home for Aged Thetas must come from a source not yet discovered. It must be given outright or left in wills or raised in some manner which will not detract from the obligations which we have already taken on.

I think it safe to say that if the endowments from which we get money for our chapter houses were doubled, we should have none too much money for the comfortable housing of our college girls. The national philanthropy to which we pledged our support at the Pasadena Convention is growing in service to the speechless children of our country. It is doing a fine and a unique work. As it grows, our interest in it and our voluntary contributions will grow also. This national philanthropy has been a great factor in the new-found strength of our alumnæ chapters and clubs. Their interest in and knowledge of fraternity matters has increased along with their interest in the project. We have set our hands and our word to this work and we must go forward with it.

It was said at Convention that many wealthy Thetas would be glad to contribute or will money for such a Home. I have no doubt that there are 500 women among our 40,000 who could spare $1,000. If we could raise a half million dollars for this purpose, I believe that would be enough to build a modest Home sheltering about 30 women, and to give it sufficient endowment so that it would not be a problem to future officers and members. I would like to hear from anyone interested in giving, or interested in a plan for raising this Fund. In the meantime, it is in your hands.

Long Beach Alumnae Chapter Installed November 9

Theta's newest alumnæ chapter was installed Nov. 9 at Long Beach, Cal. The installation, which followed a dinner, took place at the Virginia Country Club in Long Beach. Installing officer was Irene Combe Miller, Grand Alumnæ Secretary.

The new group now has 53 members on its roll and has several projects under way. Formerly members of an alumnæ club, Long Beach Thetas have been working since 1948 for the benefit of the Institute of Logopedics. Their profits from the sale of silver polish, metal polish and jewelry cleaner have amounted to $575 for the Institute.

Officers of the new chapter are: president, Mrs. D. D. Dunlap (Dorothy Spaulding) of Alpha Omicron chapter at Oklahoma; vice president, Mrs. Herbert Fielding (Helen Morgan) of Alpha Omicron chapter at Oklahoma; recording secretary, Mrs. William P. Barber (Virginia Wylie) of Iota chapter at Cornell; corresponding secretary, Ruth LaFrance of Beta Iota chapter at Colorado; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Stark (Maxine Hornbeck) of Beta Epsilon chapter at Oregon State; catalog, Mrs. Atlee S. Arnold (Charlotte Garlick) of Beta Xi chapter at U.C.L.A.; Panhellenic delegates, Mrs. Frederick McNair (Marjorie Rownd) of Upsilon chapter at Minnesota and Mrs. R. E. Astle (Virginia Reed) of Beta Epsilon chapter at Oregon State, and ways and means chairman, Mrs. Robert N. Hall (Virginia Burkholder) of Beta chapter at Indiana.

Sorry!

Amy Helmer Metcalf of Berkeley, Cal., who was her chapter's delegate to Convention in June, assures us that it is not she who is so identified in the October issue's picture of the Convention receiving line. The editor regrets the error and wishes to assure the misidentified Theta that the magazine will name her rightly if she will reveal her identity!

girl. Her father was killed in action shortly after her birth, and her mother, suffering from shock and depression, became mentally ill.

Sandra herself, lacking care, was hospitalized for more than a year. Then for a time she lived with her aged grandmother, who is dependent upon the charity of neighbors and cannot give the child proper care and training.

Sandra, who was seven years old Nov. 20, recently was accepted in a Foster Parents Colony, and Gamma Xi chapter has been supporting her since September. Thanks to them, she is getting the necessary care and was able to start to school this fall. She is a bright, affectionate little chatterbox who hopes to own a doll "all her very own" one day. Gamma Xi's letters and little kindnesses will mean much to her.

Institute's New Plant Is Outstanding

The new home of the Institute of Logopedics is the largest and best-equipped center of its kind, its board of directors states.

The main building of the Institute is the nerve-center of the entire development. On its three floors are every modern facility for aiding the highly technical procedures of corrective work.

There are special classrooms where the children receive their regular public school educations. Speech corrective work with all children, however, is performed in individual training rooms, where each child has the undivided attention of the clinician working with him. This system has been adhered to rigidly by the Institute since it is felt fairness to the child demands professional services adapted to the specific needs of each child.

Research and professional training activities also are centered in the main building.

The Institute's function as a research center has been advanced materially by the additional space and equipment. There are two large, completely-equipped laboratories and special facilities for photographic and sound-recording work. For the first time, the Institute has the opportunity to perform both its fundamental investigations and its research on techniques under controlled conditions.

These Fraternity Education Programs Are Interesting

In response to the magazine-sponsored competition for college chapters, many groups contributed descriptions of their fraternity education programs. Selected for presentation here because of their interesting, original and widely adaptable ideas are the programs of BELOIT, MISSOURI and VERMONT. Don't miss their suggestions of ideas which your chapter may find stimulating.

Beloit Studies Philanthropies of Panhellenic Groups

By Arlene Grundvig Gamma Lambda Chapter

Successful fraternity education programs often take much thought and effort on the part of a college chapter. The manner in which material is presented as well as the variety of topics included can often mean interesting, or very dull, programs. Last spring Gamma Lambda introduced a new and very successful type Fraternity Education program to the Beloit campus sororities.

After a particularly interesting and beneficial discussion of our own national philanthropy at a Friday afternoon gathering, the suggestion was made that we invite a member of each of the other national women's groups on campus to speak about their particular philanthropies.

The original idea for this type exchange information came from Beloit's first Pan-Hellenic Workshop. No one had followed through to try it out until Gamma Lambda took it up. Open discussions and question periods after each girl presented a talk on her own group's philanthropy brought out many facts and the meetings were highly enjoyed by the whole chapter.

Fraternity Education has served another very definite purpose for our chapter. At a point not too long ago, our scholarship was rock-bottom. After several Fraternity Education programs concerning the topic of scholarship, enthusiasm mounted and so did our grade average. Constructive criticisms and suggestions came out in discussions following planned scholarship programs.

"Refresher" courses in Kappa Alpha Theta history have proved to be beneficial to our members, and etiquette never ceases to provide an excellent topic at the beginning of each year. It is particularly important in orienting freshmen to campus "rights" and "wrongs."

This winter Gamma Lambda is planning to include in fraternity education programs talks by chapter members majoring in various fields. This should widen our knowledge and help younger girls especially to make decisions as to the fields in which they will major.

We have been trying to include in fraternity education programs a wide variety of topics, and thus enlarge our horizons. Becoming more familiar with the ideals of Theta, attaining a more gracious way of living, learning of the works of others, improving our scholastic standing: all of these fundamentals to good living have been our goal through fraternity education.

Missouri Emphasizes Fraternity Information

By Lang Collins
Alpha Mu Chapter

With all the rush of activities that keep every coed on the go, the fraternity education program at Alpha Mu had been neglected for several years. We, consequently, are especially aware of our revitalized program.

Our first step was the election of a vigorous and efficient officer to head the project. Her committee consists of one representative from each class, so that the particular interests of each member may be known.

Reports are given in chapter and pledge meetings at least three times a month by the officer. These brief comments deal with national projects, fraternity and chapter history, Panhellenic, and fraternity organization, ritual and insignia. They also cover such general topics as responsibilities of officers.

Special projects include planning and presenting "Theta Night," a special program designed to brush up members' knowledge of Theta and to give pledges the little known facts about their fraternity and chapter which cannot be covered in their regular training program.

Planning of Founders' Day activities is also a function of the committee.

Another task of our fraternity education officer is to work in conjunction with the chapter librarian in collecting any and all written material that deals with the fraternity system. This material is used extensively by pledges for any research projects they may be assigned.

Dearest to Alpha Mu's is the annual initiation banquet which was inaugurated last spring. New and old Thetas alike love to hear the little known stories of their own chapter, its founding and its progress.

Vermont Keys Program to "Appreciation"

By NANCY GILSON Lambda Chapter

"The modern sorority woman seems to have so little appreciation of what, lacking a better name, I must call the 'spiritual intangibles' of sorority," Dean Mary Jean Simpson told Vermont Thetas.

Silence prevailed within the Theta house, and appreciation of Theta and its spirit was the topic to be considered by each individual member.

The embers which were slowly dying in the fireplace of Lambda chapter house suddenly burst into a brilliant flame as a new log was placed on the andirons. The girls, struck by the wise words presented to them, felt its warmth spread throughout, gradually touching each member.

Dean Simpson concluded that "one reason for this lack of appreciation is the failure to give sufficient time to the cultivation of this very important side of fraternity life."

The meeting ended and seriousness was replaced by laughter and song, but the fire continued to blaze, and a lasting warmth penetrated each Theta heart.

You may call it sentimentality, but then, why not? We had been called upon to stop our busy college activities and think of Theta as something besides a prominent name and a social society. That we did. This meeting is memorable for us as a beginning of what we call "Fireside Devotion."

Hence, every Monday evening, all Vermont Thetas, including pledges, get together informally at the chapter house and play bridge, or sing or just chat. Our alumnæ and mothers' club take turns treating us to a delicious buffet supper which is usually followed by a guest speaker. While our energetic alums or mothers merrily do the dishes, we hold our meeting. After this, individual committees plan and discuss the projects at hand.

The actual educational material is presented by the guest speaker. "Rushing" was the first topic discussed by Dean Simpson; "The Spirit of Cooperation" is next on the agenda after pledging. Then, before Christmas we hope to have one of our local social workers present to bring us "The Spirit of Giving." Other speakers will include a college professor to describe his tour of Europe, a local minister to discuss moral conduct, and a local alum to further inform us of Theta history.

We have accomplished only part of our allout appreciation program, but we feel that we are well under way. How about a little honest thought on "Theta's spiritual intangibles" for you? You'll find it easy and really worth a try!

All college chapter feature material for the February issue of the magazine should be sent immediately to the editor. Subjects are: "How We Raised Our Chapter Scholarship," and "A New Song for the Campus Sing." Any chapter may contribute articles on either or both subjects. Deadline for chapter letters for the February magazine is Jan. 2.

Rush Parties Can Be Fun for Everyone!

That rushing activities should be simplified, and that rush parties should be neither elaborate nor expensive, everyone agrees. A friendly get-acquainted party is the aim of every chapter, and many college chapter editors wrote to tell about parties which both their guests and the chapter members themselves thoroughly enjoyed.

The following descriptions of parties at BUTLER, MASSACHUSETTS and WASHBURN were chosen for inclusion here because: (1) the parties afforded a genuine opportunity for Thetas and their guests to become better acquainted; (2) the parties were not expensive or lavish; (3) the parties showed originality and humor, and (4) the parties did not demand an unreasonable amount of time and energy in preparation.

Butler Says "Rush Is Like a Circus"

By JOAN COXEN

Gamma Chapter

The theme of our best rush party was "Rush Is Like a Circus." The party was held at night at the chapter house. Floodlights lighted up the circus banner which was strung across the front of the house. Brightly colored balloons were strung along the walk. Tiny carrousels turned gaily on the porch while merry-go-round music played.

Inside, the Theta house was literally converted into a circus big-top. Balloons and stuffed animals were everywhere. In one corner of the room, a tiny carrousel, with stuffed animals on it, was turning and playing circus music. Big circus signs were around the room.

The circus began with a poem which reminded the rushees how they felt when they were children going to a circus. Then came this poetic enlargement on the statement, "Rush Is Like a Circus" (The seven in the poem refers to the seven sororities on campus):

"Rush is like a circus,
A seven-ringed one at that.
You're caught in such a whirl,
You don't know what's at bat.
Parties, parties, everywhere,
And seven calls a day.
It would surely be too bad,
If you should lose your way.
Your head is turned in all directions,

It seems like such a mess.
You no sooner get where you're going,
Than it's time to go to the next.
And so, things being the way that they are,
It suddenly occurred to us
That we should leave you in this whirl,
And present tonight, a Theta circus."

Then everyone was off to the circus. Six girls, dressed as small children with short pinafores and big hairbows, came into the circus-ring and sang and did a little dance to "We're Off To the Circus."

Three clowns came tumbling into the room; the barker introduced four pretty babies of the dangerous high-wire, who tight-rope-walked across an imaginary high-wire; a trained horse, an Arabian dancing girl, a Viennese nightingale and an African freak all performed.

After these acts and routines, the whole cast came out and sang the following song:

"Yes—rush is like a circus gay,
Like you have witnessed here today.
Under the Theta tent, we had such fun,
Performing for you, and now that it's all done,
We hope you enjoyed our show,
And later on when you will go—
Please take our advice when it comes to this rush,

Have a good time and forget all the fuss.

We want you to know us—to like us and show us that RUSH IS LIKE A CIRCUS"

Popcorn, in white bags with the Greek letters painted on them, was then served with pink lemonade. During the refreshments, a fortune teller read the palms of some of the rushees.

With the circus over, we all waited and hoped that the girls would go home thinking, "Yes, rush is like a circus," and "It would be fun to be a Theta."

Massachusetts Likes Its Shipwreck Party

By BARBARA HILL Gamma Eta Chapter

Come aboard the S.S. Theta, freshmen, for a party you will remember as the best of the rush season. Thus we might have invited the rreshmen to our "Shipwreck Party."

The freshmen got the first hint as to the theme of the party when they received sea shells announcing the time, place, and event. That night, as they trooped up to the house, they were amazed to find that the door of our Theta house had been transformed into a gangplank. Nearby was a rubber raft, the S.S. Theta. A crowd of handsome "sailors" met them at the door, and escorted the girls to the living room, which had been transformed into the beach on a desert island.

Seen with the "sailors" were the passengers, who were dressed just as they were when the ship went down. On one wall of the living room was an ocean view with realistic waves and blue sky. The floor was scattered with sand, sea shells, and anchors. Fishnets were hung from the ceiling and there was a real compass to complete the scene.

Entertainment was supplied by two cannibals who did an "authentic" dance. There was also an acrobatic midget act, and one of our members led the now famous "Lion Hunt." A quartet sang ship songs, and the ship's cook led us in a community sing which included an hilarious version of "Row, Row, Row."

While some of the girls were being entertained in the living room, the braver ones ventured into the dining room which was set as a cannibal village. Their fortunes were told by the cannibal gypsy who sat in a grass hut (cornstalks). Native waitresses stirred cannibal brew in a huge black vat, set over a realistic fire.

The brew was served in a black can with luminous K A Θ on the front. There was also a delicious array of fresh pineapple pieces, banana slices, figs, dates and nuts, which we consumed while sitting cross-legged on the floor.

The evening came to a close all too soon, but the freshmen had a living memento of the party to carry away with them. The punch cans were filled with water and each girl was given a live guppie to take home. Thus ended the best rush party we had.

Washburn Recommends A "Flapper Fling"

By Charline Mandeville
Alpha Upsilon Chapter

With the arrival this fall of the sheath dress, short bobbed hair and dangling ear rings, we of Alpha Upsilon decided that we were behind, or ahead, of the times. So each of us went home to her mother's school trunk and pulled out the inspirations for our favorite rush party, the "Flapper Fling."

Washburn's "flappers"

Our first problem was to fit each Theta with one of these dresses from the flapper age. This accomplished, we all stepped out complete from our frizzled hair and jangling bracelets to our rouged knees and rolled stockings.

Alumnae Chapters Are Enthusiastic Over Projects

Philanthropy Benefits from Successful Enterprises

Indianapolis Elated Over Talent Bazaar

By Julia Jean Rowe Rhodes

It was a very successful day in November, 1949, when the Indianapolis Alumnæ chapter turned its talents into money. As the last buyer departed into the pea-soup fog outside, booth chairmen totaled up receipts of $916 for the first of the annual Talent Bazaars to be presented by the group.

Under the excellent chairmanship and plain dogged persistence of Edith Gronendyke Jackson, Indianapolis alumnæ knitted, painted, potted plants, collected antiques, wove hot pads and pin cushion covers, and gathered recipes for six months before Bazaar day. And when THE day was over, they had made more than twice as much money as had ever been made on a single year's project before.

Rather than try a ticket-selling project, someone suggested the bazaar idea; it clicked, and, like Topsy, it grew! People were delighted to be chairmen of the booths, and even more people were pleased to meet in groups to sew, knit, crochet, or stuff calico cats and loopy dogs.

Certain items were made into "projects" because great quantities of them were wanted. Aprons, luncheon sets, cocktail napkins, tea towels, stuffed animals, bean bags, plastic shoe bags, fireplace mitts, and even French and Roquefort dressing were made by the dozen lot in this way. Everywhere a Theta went, she took her "project" with her. As she knit a gay cotton dusting mitt, her friends grew curious—why was she making those? what would they cost? could they be bought now, even before the Bazaar? And so it was that many items were sold before the day, with each one helping to advertise the coming sale.

The city's daily newspapers were very generous with publicity for the event, but the Thetas made certain the papers were WELL in-

Next, we turned our living and sun rooms into a girls' suite from the era of the twenties. The sun room became the bedroom with the addition of wicker desks and rocking chairs; small dorm beds decorated with Theta animals and school pillows; and Washburn yearbooks of the twenties scattered here and there.

We borrowed a huge scrapbook in which were faithfully recorded the memories of four flapper years in college. We also had a typical bulletin board to which we added pictures we had taken earlier of our own actives dressed for the party. We changed our living room by adding more wicker chairs, lamps with fancy beaded shades, pillows and throw rugs.

Our alumni presented the zenith of the fashions during the twenties. They showed everything from bathing suits to winter coats; but our favorites were the daytime pajamas, the sports dresses and the hats. For further entertainment, the more talented actives played their ukuleles 1920 style, and taught the rest of us to dance the Charleston.

After all this exertion, we were well prepared for our hot dogs with chili sauce, potato chips, candied apples and cokes. We fixed the food ourselves with the exception of the candied apples. We also found that it was a grand help to have our alumnæ in the kitchen.

We would like to recommend this party because of the small cost involved in giving it and the wonderful ice-breaking qualities of the costumes and decoration, and the dancing.

formed. And publicity did not end with the newspapers. Invitations, "writ by hand," were sent to members of all Theta alumnæ clubs in the area, the mothers' club, the college chapter, the Butler university faculty association and all the Panhellenic groups. This year the list will be expanded to include the mothers' clubs of all fraternities and sororities on the Butler campus and the campus housemothers.

When Nov. 28 rolled 'round and citizens' minds were freed from Thanksgiving dinner throes, the Indianapolis Alumnæ chapter opened the doors of the Butler University Theta Chapter house to admit the first customers at one o'clock. Within an hour, the Indianapolis Alumnæ found themselves sans angels, sans candles, sans stars, sans fruit cake, sans a great part of their wares!

The Christmas decorations sold like hot cakes right away, and so did the real hot cakes. The home-baked rolls and cakes and preserves, all articles of food, proved bonanzas. The antiques chairman yearned for more old lamps, miniatures, bone dishes, and salt cellars to sell. Fireplace mitts of velveteen with broom stick whiskers on the felt cat faces tickled the chins of cuddly soft dolls and squeezed against the old cup and saucer with philadendron for its contents, in many a purchaser's arms.

Some customers were almost too burdened to drink tea. Since this was the combination meeting for November and December, a Christmas Tea was served in the chapter house dining room.

In the living room, trophy room, and hall, the "booths" were set around the room, leaving plenty of aisle space. These were not frame and slat affairs. The booths were on card tables, covered with sheets and decorated with spangly stars and tinsely angels. But it was not long before even these decorations were sold!

All in all, there were booths for aprons, linens, antiques, knit and baby items, stuffed animals, dolls and bean bags, plants, Christmas wreaths, food, Christmas stockings, and Christmas decorations. And myriad were the items in each.

Not only did the alumnæ learn to know each other far better than ever before, not only did many new Thetas in town find a chance to meet the old hands, but many, many children throughout the country benefited by Indianapolis Alumnæ's first bazaar. After $50 of the proceeds were given to the active chapter in return for lending its house, the remainder was divided evenly between the national project, the Institute of Logopedics, and the local project, the Child Guidance Clinic.

Nashville Annually Sponsors Bal d'Hiver

By SARA ARMISTEAD

The Nashville Alumnæ chapter contributed $1,000 to the Institute of Logopedics and $1,000 to a local charity with the proceeds from their fourth annual Bal d'Hiver on Feb. 3, 1950!

the 1950 ball and, with many tireless Thetas, planned and staged one of the outstanding events of the social calendar in Nashville. The affair was held in the ballroom of historic Maxwell House.

Feature of the evening was the presentation of the court and the crowning of the queen by Governor Gordon L. Browning. Eight representatives of Vanderbilt sororities led the royal procession with their escorts, and a little girl and boy, serving as crown bearer and scepter bearer, heralded the queen's entrance.

Assisting Mrs. Huggins, the chairman, were committees for ticket sales, participants, prizes, decorations, ushers, staging, programs, publicity and orchestra. The members of the Alumnæ chapter sold tickets for several weeks in advance of the ball, and merchants donated prizes.

Every effort had been made to keep expenses at a minimum but, nonetheless, expenses on the ball were between $700 and $800, including tax on tickets, orchestra, decorations, printing of tickets and rental of the ballroom. But after all our bills had been paid, we sent a check for $1,000 to our local charity and another check for $1,000 to our national philanthropy.

We are now busy with plans for our 1950 Bal d'Hiver, of which Mrs. Carr Payne will serve as chairman.

Square Dance Proves Profitable for Omaha

By Francis I. Fuhrer

Tired of the type of project in which we sell things to ourselves, Omaha Alumnæ decided it would be fun to have a Theta party with husbands and friends included. Soon we were enamored of the idea of taking advantage of the square dance craze. This decision was reached despite the ancient and respected belief of our chapter that "we are not a ticket-selling outfit."

The problems of date, place and orchestra were first to be considered. The first was solved with a quick look at the calendar and the discovery of a fifth Friday in March. With the size of ballrooms and the most popular square dance music-makers in mind, committee members volunteered to investigate and obtain both. We started on these errands in the optimistic hope that we could sell 200 or 300 tickets at $1.00 each.

When committee members reported back, we had the following picture:

Arrangements and Concession committees—All had gone better than expected. We had obtained two ballrooms for the price of one. In addition, the management would donate to us all profits from the liquid refreshments and checking stand. Another firm would give us pretzels and potato chips to sell. One firm would set up a television set, and we would provide card tables for the bridge and canasta fiends. We hoped to make it difficult to find an excuse for not attending.

Publicity and Ticket committees—The Newspaper was giving us a great deal of space for pictures and write-ups. A local radio station was announcing the dance. Posters were being located in strategic places as well as being taken to each of the square dance clubs where tickets would be available. The tickets themselves were donated, and each Theta was to be responsible for two, though many took more. One enthusiastic soul sold more than 100 tickets.

Program committee—Both complicated and simple dances were to be called; seven callers and the master of ceremonies would give their time, as would 14 exhibition dancers who were to give demonstrations during intermission. Two firms even promised us door prizes.

We continued to be surprised with our success.

Although we had no decorations, the dance was gay and colorful, for nearly everyone came in square dance costume. In one ballroom, more than 40 sets of dancers were responding to the calls while spectators lined the room. In the other room, large numbers of people were "cooling off," playing cards, watching the TV and just visiting. We were astonished at the number present and at more than 150 tickets being sold at the door.

One of our hardest working alumnæ arrived when the party was in full swing. She stood in the doorway in obvious amazement muttering, "I don't understand it; I don't understand it. I'm the one who keeps saying that we can't sell tickets."

After the smoke had cleared, we found that 588 persons attended, that 764 tickets had been sold, that our concessions had paid for the ballroom and music, that our largest expense was $99.96 for tax, and that our philanthropy gained $650.

It is interesting to note that more than 95 per cent of our alumnæ cooperated in some way, even if it was just buying a ticket that they knew they would be unable to use. Perhaps for us this latter fact is the most important. We feel that we now have a stronger and more unified group.

Seattle Makes Big Business of "Tourist Tips"

By Mary Fran Courtney Woods

The members of Seattle Alumnæ chapter wanted a continuous project which would net them at least a thousand dollars a year for their ten year pledge to the active chapter at the University of Washington. Since Seattle is overly organized for charities, our project must be something new; something fresh, not involving ticket selling.

After pushing genius to the wall we came up with an idea for a tourist booklet. Since Seattle had none, the idea seemed a natural. A map of the city, including street reference guide, was to be in the center of the book. It also would include carefully selected advertisements of restaurants, hotels, shops, baby sitter service, country clubs, cleaners, and beauty salons. Running through the booklet, too, would be interesting stories about the city, its history, highlights, surrounding locale and resorts.

Our attorney friends advised us to incorporate as it was a potential "big business," so we formed the Sackat Foundation Incorporated (Seattle Alumnæ Chapter Kappa Alpha Theta). Later we rented a telephone exchange number downtown for incoming calls at 10¢ a call.

We compiled a list of the advertisers we wanted in our booklet, "Tourist Tips," and formed our sales team of 54 Thetas to go forth and get them. At this point hung the failure or success of the venture.

None of the girls had had previous experience soliciting ads. The alums ranged from grandmothers to fresh-out-of-college girls, and each and every one was scared to death to brave the cold business world to sell firms advertisement space in a non-existent booklet.

It was a challenge! It was exciting. It was rewarding. And it was discouraging, over and over.

When spirits dragged and the tone was to give up, sales meetings were called to encourage the girls. There we exchanged ideas, experiences and laughed and cried over the predicaments we found ourselves in at times. These sales meetings were the sustenance and courage-giving element everyone needed to keep up the fast pace that had been set.

Here is the cover, both front and back, of Seattle's new printing of "Tourist Tips." It is printed in chartreuse and dark brown.

It cannot be stressed enough how the girls ran the gamut of emotions, how much they learned, how much they gave up of their home life to do it, their loyalty to Dorothy Johnson, alumnæ president and Marty Owens chairman, and what an amalgamating force it has been in our alumnæ organization.

In order to make expenses we had to have 80 ads. When it was time to go to print, only three months after the idea of "Tourist Tips" was adopted, we had just 70 ads. The printer was kind and told us to work up to the last minute and he would keep the presses open for us. The final frantic spurt brought us a total of 120 ads enabling us to make $850.00, a token amount for the effort expended; but the road for future "Tourist Tips" is carved, and we should be very successful.

Two alumnæ who knew nothing about printing and assembling put the booklet together and arranged the ads and the interesting copy written by other members. Because of their inexperience it was a thrash to get it done, but the results were excellent. The booklet, printed in chartreuse and dark brown to harmonize with our northwest evergreen land, had a new fresh look. It is the size of a legal envelope and fits nicely in a purse.

"Tourist Tips" was well received. When told about it, Shell Stations said they would take 200, but when they saw the booklet they sent word they would take 4,000 to start with. The Chamber of Commerce distributed them; hotels in Spokane, in Vancouver, B.C., Canada, in Bellingham and at Grand Coulee Dam, as well as other places of business touched by tourists also distributed them. There was no charge for the 20,000 "Tourist Tips."

Sightseeing busses gave "Tourist Tips" to their patrons, and they reported that they had never given anything out before that was received with so much enthusiasm.

Into October calls were coming in for more "Tourist Tips" but the supply had been exhausted several months before.

In order to make more money, this year we are working on a plan to sell the booklets to the distributors and to newsstands. Otherwise the amount of work entailed is not in line with the new profit.

If any alumnæ chapter wishes more detailed information on this project, president Dorothy Hinman Johnson (Mrs. E. William), 905 Olympic Way, Seattle 99, Wash., will gladly furnish information.

College Chapters Keep Busy!

Congratulations, college chapters! Seventy-four college chapters and seventy-four chapter letters: a 100 percent rating! No alumna will look in vain for the doings of her chapter in this issue. Let's make this excellent cooperation a habit. THE EDITOR.

Adelphi

We Alpha Kappas are in the whirl of rushing again! Just now we are planning for our first tea, Oct. 12. We hope that Mrs. French, who arrives Oct. 9, will be able to remain with us for the tea. Incidentally, this will be our Grand President's first visit to Adelphi, and we are all eagerly awaiting her arrival.

Rush lasts six weeks on our campus. Our big party, Nov. 1, will find the Theta "flappers" really razz-a-ma-tazzing 50 frosh. Pledging follows on Nov. 10, with a tremendous weekend in store for the new pledges and the chapter at Marge Kruger's country home on Long Island.

On Oct. 8 there will be two more Theta kites flying high when Eunice Johnson and Irene Anthony will be initiated. We are proud, too, of the sparkling records of last spring's initiates: Barbara Lynn, Dorothy Scheu, Joyce Quinn, Helen Tiffany, Lois Mackay, Barbara Denning, Marjorie Kruger, Christine Lynes and Patricia Kiesling. Bobbie Lynn is now "veep" of women's dorms; Pat Kiesling is secretary of Student Government; Helen Tiffany is school mail chairman; Chris Lynes, treasurer of Yacht club; Lois Mackay, secretary to editor of the school paper, and Barbara Denning, chairman of the fall dance for new students.

Last spring Kathy Read received the highest honor ever given a woman at Adelphi in psychology. She was also editor of the literary magazine, Pylon. Mary Westervelt was named to Roundtable, English honorary. Grace Isola took first prize in the regional poetry-reading contest, and was elected to Gold Mask, drama honorary. Sandra Wright, Panhellenic president, was elected to Lantern, Adelphi's Mortar Board equivalent, and she is a member of Honor Board.

You should have seen our beautiful Cinderella pageant on May Day weekend. Carolyn Nubel made the fairy tale come alive when she stepped out of our gigantic storybook. Now we are busy building and painting for the float contest for Adelphi's football weekend, Oct. 20. Then comes All-College Night when we'll be competing, class against class, for the sought-after award for "hilarity." As usual, we expect the faculty skit to steal the show!

Convention at Swampscott was the most inspiring experience in the lives of those of us who could attend: Sandra Wright, our delegate, and Ann Kelly, Flo Mauro, Lois Mackay, Gertrude May, Joyce Quinn and Eileen O'Connor. We can hardly wait until 1952!

October 4 CHRISTINE LYNNS

Alberta

The past summer and early fall were packed full of entertainment for members, pledges and prospective rushees. A pansy tea, several coffee parties and a wiener roast were enjoyed by many in Calgary and here in Edmonton. Following a recent party at the "Theta Sundae Shop," we pledged ten second-year girls: Patricia Bice, Florence Boyer, Jean Fryer, Elaine Hansen, Alice Peterson, June Richards, Joyce Tomie, Barbara Schwalder, Lucy Seneshen and Joan Wheeler.

We were proud to learn that Muriel Buchanan Armstrong, past president of our chapter, had been chosen for a $500 award by the Loan and Fellowship group. She is doing postgraduate study in economics at McGill university.

Our chapter house has had many improvements during the past few weeks. Each girl has been sewing, painting and re-arranging her room. We are fortunate to have Mrs. Peterson as our charming and capable house mother. She has truly made the house a home away from home.

DORIS ROPER

Allegheny

How we love our pledges! They have demonstrated that they are very much a part of Theta, although they have been pledged only since Oct. 1. They are: Nancy Anne Archer, Barbara Chew, Shirley Dobson, Joyce Ann Melvin and Joanne Wurstner, all of Pittsburgh; Mary Brunot, Beaver; Margaret Jane Congleton, and Barbara Jane Walker, Glen Ridge, N.J.; Joan Dilley, Greenville; Dorothy Hines, Nancy Gaub Mason, Donna Shuman and Dorothy Walker, all of Meadville; Dorothea Ruth Johnston, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Esther Lindstron, New Castle; Elsie Marten, Cleveland; Jane Kahl Maurer, Rocky River, Ohio: Lois Jean Pulling, Carlisle; Nancy Tatem, Mt. Lebanon, and Mary Virginia Wise, Butler.

Informal gatherings have taken the lime-light on Mu's social calendar and we have had much fun together. One sunny Saturday we climbed into a pick-up truck and bounced all the way to a favorite picnic site for an afternoon of baseball, singing, and frolic with our pledges.

October 15 found us bound for the Allegheny Wild Life Preserve, Bousson, with our dates. Bousson, in its autumn clothes, proved to be an ideal location for a grand outing. Hikes and baseball games whetted our appetities for the fabulous food served in Bousson's rustic cabin. After this, everyone sat around the roaring fire and sang guitar-accompanied songs. Then our pledges presented an original skit which turned out to be the high spot of the evening. Finally, to end a perfect day, there was dancing in the cabin.

Now we are eagerly waiting for the weekend of Nov. 11 to roll around. We are planning to make this the best Father's Weekend we have ever had!

MARY BETH MAUNTEL

Arizona

Our new bronze trophy, the Forward Cup awarded at Grand Convention, made an interesting topic of conversation during rush. And it was a grand rush, climaxed by the pledging of 25 wonderful girls. They are: Darien Ainsley, Dyer, Ind.; Ruth Askey and Helen Ann Clark, Los Angeles; Donna Bullard, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Margie Johnson and Julie Rockfellos, South Pasadena, Calif.; Sally Kendall, Stockton; Kay Mason, Southgate; Carolyn Mitchell, Flintridge; Louise Tracy, Encino; Cynthia Clements, Patricia Hull, Mary Jane Keeton, Beverly Kilpatrick, Charlyn Scott and Mary Jo Wimberly, all from Phoenix; Jean Thomas and Ann Price, Tucson; Nancy Clark, Oklahoma City, Okla.; Barbara Ann Smith, Kansas City, Mo.; Claire Rawhauser, Denver, Colo.; Denise Byerly, Obregon, Sonora, Mexico; Joan Elrod, Kenilworth, Ill.; Betty Funk, Decatur, Ill., and Florence Leese, Quincy, Ill.

Starting the year with a bang were three pledges, Charlyn Scott, Myrnie Keeton and Ruth Askey, who qualified for Mermaids, swimming honorary. Ruth also was elected president of Junior Panhellenic council.

Charlyn Scott and Mary Jo Wimberly, dressed in black and dancing under a large, black painted box, won first place at the annual Co-ed Capers in their portrayal of the song, "Dancing in the Dark."

Kites flew above the house on Oct. 14, previous to our initiation on the 15th. New actives are Barbara Rosenburg, Ann Leahy, Isabelle Pendergast, Bonnie Pine, Betty Lou Gilbert, Debby Dunseath and Janet Chambers.

Oct. 22, a tea was given in honor of our marvelous new housemother, Mrs. Doris Ocker. The entire chapter turned out to drink a punch toast to her.

Plans for the immediate future include working on house decorations for Homecoming and making paper flowers for the float, the plan of which is still a mystery to the girls. It was decided curiosity about the float would spur us on to a quickly completed job in order to see the finished product.

With an unusual amount of spirit and enthusiasm, the house has begun a year which promises to be enjoyable and profitable. October 24 IANE EVANS

Beloit

Gamma Lambda is off to a blazing start this year with 16 wonderful new pledges. Our annual pledge banquet, feting the 11 freshmen and five upperclassmen, was held at the Wagon Wheel in Rockton, Ill.

Homecoming is always one of the biggest events in the school year, and Beloit is certainly no exception. We were delighted when our candidate for homecoming queen was elected. She is Carli Charters, a junior transfer from Stanford. Our homecoming decorations were a great success, too, for we took first prize. Katie Kemper and Molly Simpson were in charge of the decorations. To top everything off, Beloit won the homecoming game, so we Thetas really had a wonderful weekend.

Initiation took place this fall for five members. They are Diane Gerhardt, Barbara Mulloy, Barbara Olwin, Ann Postels and Nancy Wells.

On Nov. 11 the sorority informals are coming up, and we have planned "A Trip to Mars" for our theme. The vestibule of the house will be decorated like a rocket ship and the inside of the house like the planet itself, with rock formations, stars and Martians.

We will celebrate Dad's Day on Nov. 19 with openhouse and a breakfast for all of our fathers.

ARLENE GRUNDVIG

British Columbia

September brings the opening of another year for Theta at the University of British Columbia, and we have high hopes that it will be another successful year.

Rushing was wonderful! The coke party and tea started the session, and a fun-loaded Siamese party topped things off. For this function the Thetas were authentically garbed in black satin trousers, Siamese jackets and huge paper flowers made for us by the alumnæ. A Siamese supper was served with chop sticks; tricky, but fun!

New pledges include Mary Chadwick, Carolyn Bagshaw, Lee Bloedel, Barbara Flaten, Sheila McGiverin, Betty Browne, Joyce Morrison, Dolores Ford, Jan Caple, Jane Graham and Audrey Moore. A Halloween masquerade pledge party is being held, so we are all digging deep into drawers and trunks to find something to wear

Right now we are in the midst of planning for another Greek letter society Mardis Gras, which is held each year to raise funds for the Community Chest. We are practicing, too, for our half-time entertainment for the football game this weekend.

The Women's Undergraduate society recently held tryouts for its annual fashion show, and we are proud that Adele Goult and Betty Browne were chosen to model in the show on Nov. 16.

AILSA MCEACHRAN

Butler

Gamma chapter won several honors last spring. Patty Payne was elected to a seat on Student Council. Jackie Pashley reigned as queen over the Interfraternity dance, and Jody Doyle was the queen of the Sophomore Cotillion. We all were proud of them.

The following girls were pledged to Spurs, sophomore women's honorary: Patty Payne, Judi Reynolds, Ann Fuller, Norma Stultz, Julia Moore, Ann Hall, Jane Cooksey and Nancy Broyles Rubrecht. Barbara Burchfield, Jean Porteous and Joan Coxen were chosen for Chimes, junior women's honorary. Joan LeBien and Barbara Heiney were tapped at Spring Sing for Scarlet Quill, senior honorary.

The Senior luncheon was held last June at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. At this time, we honored our twelve graduating seniors. After the luncheon, Joan LeBien and Marge Stuhldreher were presented with activity pins, and Barbara Heiney received the scholarship pin.

When we returned to school in September, we all were thrilled with the beauty of the house. The alums had surprised us by having the downstairs walls painted. They also bought cranberry satin drapes for the living room and had two of the love seats re-upholstered. The bedrooms have beautiful new bedspreads and draperies to match. The house certainly does look beautiful and we are very proud of it.

We have a new housemother this year, Mrs. Jessie Johnson, better known to us as "Mom J." She was originally a Theta at DePauw. We are all thrilled to have her with us.

Under the leadership of Joan LeBien, rush chairman, and Helen Hodges, out-of-town rush chairman, we had a very successful rush. We pledged 21 girls: Nancy Arbecker, Paula Baumgartner, Janet Brucker, Virginia Davis, Mary Gianakos, Doris Graham, Nancy Harkless, Rosalyn Izor, Martha Katzenberger, Nancy Lewis, Barbara Ann Schulmeyer, Norma Stultz, Marjorie Tarkington, Barbara Walsh and Betty Wilson, all of Indianapolis; Julia Manning, Frankfort; Dorothy McClamroch, New Augusta; Marilyn McCormick, Delphi; Lou Ann Phillips, Angola; Carolyn Tudor, Kokomo, and Katherine Zay, Huntington.

The Panhellenic Dinner was held in the John Atherton Center on Sept. 13. We were all proud of Mrs. Ralph Baur, our district president, who was the speaker at the banquet. After the dinner, a slumber party was held at the house to help us become better acquainted with our new pledges. On October 15, we held open house to introduce the pledges to campus. They all looked beautiful and we were "proud as punch" to show them off.

Several offices have changed hands this year because some of the girls did not return to school. The new officers are: Patty Payne, treasurer; Jean Porteous, marshal; Marilyn Woody, historian, and Jo Statton, archivist.

Initiation was held October 1 for: Judi Reynolds, Pat Wood, Jennie Konold, Barbara Churchman, Marmi Kingsbury, Julia Moore, Betsy Dithmer, Jane Sisson, Julia Farmer, Gretchen Graves, Marga Carter, Jane Cooksey, Ann Hall, Ann Mull, Mitzi Gaffney, and Nancy Broyles Rubrecht. At the banquet that followed, they thrilled us with a song they had written which showed their deep love of Theta.

We have not been lacking in social activities this year. We have had several exchange dinners with the fraternities on campus. For each one, the pledges have prepared a short stunt, all of which have been very good. Saturday, October 28, we held our annual fall dance. This year we had a Halloween dance complete with barn dance music.

JOAN COXEN

California

Another rushing season ended on September 22, and Omega has 21 new pledges. They are: Leslie Clark, Virginia Steven, Alice McAllister, Alice Charleston, Joann Fogarty, and Janice Johnson, all from San Francisco; Nancy Robinson and Mitzi Spence, Berkeley; Arlene Dumars, Woodland; Sally Land, Piedmont; Merrill Cudworth, Alameda; Lila Nelson, Madera; Sue Tuttle, Colusa; Betty Ann Dougherty, Carmel; Mary Ann MacDougall, Sacramento; Maryalice Ricketts, Pasadena; Nancy Stewart, Glendale; Kathryn Atmore, Santa Paula; Barbara Billinger, Oxnard; Joanne and Betty Hartman, Ventura.

The fall semester always seems to bring a great rush of social activities. Besides an open house after each home game, there are many fraternity exchanges on our calendar. Among these was an exchange with Chi Phi which consisted of a baseball game and innumerable hot dogs. In the future there will be parties with the Sigma Nu's, Beta's and Phi Psi's.

On November 3, the Bay Area Alumnæ associations are sponsoring a dance to be held at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco with partial benefits for us and the San Jose chapter. We are all looking forward to this gala occasion.

Campus activities have begun again. Sue Howell was elected to Cal club and is chairman of the Events Program for the All-University weekend. Sunny Walden was initiated into Panile, sophomore women's honor society. Pat Mulligan is Chairman of Intramural Bowling and Betsy Lowe is her assistant.

We are all very proud of our spring pledges who were first on the campus pledge scholarship list. The active chapter is now in sixth place.

We are also glad to have Jean Ravera, formerly of Beta Mu, in Omega. She affiliated late in June.

SALLY ANN STANKARD

California at Los Angeles

Members of Beta Xi had a real treat when they returned to their Hilgard home after summer vacation. The Corporation Board, wonderfully directed under Mrs. Howard Lockie, Mrs. Robert Bauer, Mrs. Joseph Horten and Mrs. George Elmendorf, had turned our already comfortable abode into a dream home. A complete and beautiful job of redecoration took place in our few months' absence. The most outstanding change was noticed in our patio. We now have lighted gardens fringing a grand Florentine blocked floor. Espaliered greenery lends the modern touch accomplished by the new features.

Around our very useable patio we have built several social functions. Our annual Date Dinner was lots of fun. It followed the Italian theme of brightly checked table cloths and wax dripped candles.

Three very successful rush parties were given in the sunny patio early in September. We pledged these 19 wonderful girls following that rush season: Marilyn Amende, Marilyn Boehm, Patricia Dennison, Ruth Durnell, Patricia Harwell (sister of Virginia, Beta Xi and Nancy, Omicron), Jill Hegeman, Susan James, Anne Lawrence (sister of Jean, Beta Xi), Carolyn Lynch, Priscilla Martin, Marian Noble, Jo Ann Parks (daughter of Mrs. Anabel Smith Parks, Alpha Omicron), Patricia Riely, Ann Saville, Mary Mac Short, Marian Stark, Neil Stevens, Janet Tate, and Kathy Welch.

Beta Xi was represented at National Convention this summer by three of its members: Jean Bailey, president; Jean Lawrence, Panhellenic delegate, and Joan Miller, recording secretary. They came back with all sorts of exciting tales to tell.

U.C.L.A. had the "big game" with Stanford this year. We entered a float in the parade (won no prizes but had lots of fun building it and made a good showing).

Seven new members were initiated Oct. 29: Betty Banks, Diane Comerford, Celesta Thayer, Mary Ann Stevenson, Margaret Stickney (daughter of Mrs. Florine Erwin Stickney, Beta Delta), Geraldine Ward and Shirley Woodland, (daughter of Mrs. Frances Harrison Woodland, Rho).

We were honored with the presence of Mrs. M. Kinzie Miller, Jr., Grand Alumnæ Secretary, and Miss Belle Hechtman, national scholarship chairman, at the initiation ceremony.

Looking forward, we are now planning our Christmas formal, which will be given jointly with the Beta Theta Pi's. Also, all Beta Xi alumnæ will be invited to attend a gathering on Dec. 8 to give our "new" home a thorough inspection. We hope that as many as possible will come, for we know they will be as thrilled with the redecoration as we are.

JACINTHA KINNEY

California at Santa Barbara

Of course the biggest news from the Gamma Rho chapter is the news of our new house. After many months of hounding real estate agents we were fortunate to find a wonderful old house which just suits our purpose. By the combined efforts of all the members and alums we redecorated the house until it is really a home to be proud of. The Thetas now have one of the largest houses on campus and we certainly wish that we could invite all the chapters to an open house.

Just as successful was our fall rush season. Under the direction of rush chairman Jane Manning, rushing went as smoothly as rushing can and we came away with 22 pledges who made us feel that our efforts were definitely not in vain. Already our new pledge class has shown wonderful spirit and talent.

We have just finished the biggest activity of the fall semester: Homecoming. This year our chapter did itself proud. We now have four new cups on the mantel. Under the leadership of Betty Woodhead, one of our new pledges, our house decorations won second prize. We were the only sorority to place in this division. We took third place for our skit in the All-Greek revue. Maggie Price and Pat Johnson were in charge of the minstrel show which brought us this cup. Roberta Dodge, our Homecoming queen candidate, was beautiful as one of the princesses on the queen's court.

Perhaps the biggest thrill of all was winning first prize for our float in the sorority division. Co-chairmen Betty Braden and Joy DeField really did a tremendous job on the float. We ended the Homecoming weekend with our annual breakfast for members and alums, which was planned by Eleanor Conte.

Congratulations are in order for three of our members in connection with the Colonel's Coeds. Betty Braden holds the highest rank in this organization while Suzi Smith and Barbara Curtis have recently been appointed commissions.

Several of our members are active in student affairs on campus this semester. Latty Whitehead, our chapter president, is co-chairman of the publicity committee. Eleanor Conte is an active member of the Special Events committee, and Sally Shedd is a junior class officer. We even have two Thetas on the song leading team.

Preparations are now in order for All-Cal weekend in Berkeley this year. We hope to meet many Thetas from the other California chapters.

Gamma Thetas returned for the 1950-51 school year in time to spend two days at South Park. The main purpose was to conclude fall rushing plans. After that was done, we managed to find much more to talk about, and we had a wonderful time.

Our first function of the year was a tea for rushees and their mothers. The second function, a dinner party for rushees only, turned out quite successfully. As in past years, it was held at Mrs. Kinnear's home in Fox Chapel. The evening consisted of much conversation, a smorgasbord dinner prepared by the Mothers' club, and entertainment furnished by the chapter members.

On Oct. 17 all our efforts were rewarded, as we pledged ten new girls. They are: Jane Bagley, Julie Consentino, Mary Jane De Hass, Patricia Gray, Irene Hezlep, Phyllis John, Phyllis McLean, Suzanne Straits, Sally Ward and Dianne Westlake. Initiation is planned for Dec. 9, and initiates will be honored at a formal dinner-dance at the Jacktown Hotel.

Our candidates for Scabbard and Blade Military Queen are Susie Menger and Nancy Davis. November 2 NANCY HORGER

Cincinnati

"Come to Know-Us Ark." With this greeting Alpha Tau welcomed rushees, and the 1950 rush season was launched. During those two weeks of concentrated rushing, rush girls not only took tours of the chapter house, whose walls echoed with exclamations over the new bedroom furniture given by the Mothers' club, but also were feted with food and entertainment in an atmosphere of gaiety not usually associated with Noah's Ark.

As always, questions about our campus activities arose, so our three Mortar Boards-Brent Ingle, Betsy Zartman, Lila Grace-were mentioned, and then we pointed with pride to our mantel adorned with six new trophies. Four were cups given to fraternity sweethearts: Joyce Ernst, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Priscilla Garrison, Lambda Chi Alpha; Doris Sendelbeck, Sigma Chi, and Peggy Benjamin, Pi Kappa Alpha. The other two trophies were awarded for our efforts in collecting money, one by the Cincinnati D.A.V., the other by the International Student Chest.

Our ark finally landed and our cries were loud and joyous when we sighted eighteen pledges climbing on board. Ames Auburn, Allyne Cragg, Anne Crocker, Shirley Fittro, Alicia Gentrup, Greta Groenke, Jo Heinz, Margaret Johnson, Ruth Lang, Nancy Laufer, Mary Maddux, Nancy Parry, Ophelia Pogue, Julie Reisner, Pat Scholl, Nancy Simmons, Lois Taylor and Audrey Thiel made up the new crew which sailed off to a good start when Mary Maddux was selected "Venus" at the Alpha Tau Omega Sweepstakes.

On Dad's Day, Oct. 21, we prepared an informal dinner, invited our dads and took each father (resplendent with a red carnation boutonniere) to the football game. The next event on the social calendar was the Sport Party on Oct. 27. Now the pace has slackened a bit to allow our president, Patricia Gill, time to prepare for her wedding Nov. 24. Then it will be Mrs. Harry Hake calling the meeting to order!

Beta Iota got its fair share of campus awards last spring quarter. During the big spring weekend, "C. U. Days," we won first place with the Betas in the mixed chorus group of Songfest. During the same weekend we teamed up with the Phi Gams in making a booth for the school carnival. Our booth was a human slotmachine with Thetas wearing different colored sweaters taking the place of apples, lemons, and plums. The judges awarded it second prize.

Several Thetas were admitted into the ranks of campus honorary societies last spring. Mary Lou Aufderheide and Mary Lou Hawkins were tapped by Mortarboard; Shirley Paider was tapped by Hesperia, and Billie Burnham and Marilyn Weller were tapped by Spur. Mary Lou Aufderheide, Alice Faldardeau, and Bobby Folly were named Pacesetters by the Colorado

Our official representatives to Grand Convention were Sue Brady and Sandy Shenefelt. Audre Roos and Patty Carroll attended, too, and the four of them are still telling us wonderful stories about the convention.

The stars were with us this year during rush week; our pledge class is tops. On September 17 we informally pledged 25 girls: Dorothy Beer, San Mateo, Calif.; Ann Buehler and Carriellen Reeve, Barrington, Ill.; Joan Culloden, Milwaukee; Donna Darley, Virginia Goodheart, Peggy Schurch and Mary Gwen Thomas, Denver; Kay Eastman, Rockford, Ill.; Shirley Gemmer, Tulsa, Okla.; Janie Glascock, Hughson, Calif.; Lee Huffman, Pasadena, Calif.; Susan Laidley, Cleveland; Joan Lien, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Sue McCord, Minneapolis; Joan McDougal, La Grange, Ill.; Betty Merriam, Winnetka, Ill.; Barbara Pauk, University City, Mo.; Joyce Pierson, Wilmette, Ill.; Sue Pomeroy, Birmingham, Mich.; Julie Sherman and Nancy Spoerri, Evanston, Ill.; Barbara Sittig, Glencoe, Ill.; Joanne Thompson, Boulder, and Catherine Yuhill, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

During open rush week we also pledged Rosemary Logan, Chicago; Marjorie Needham, Rockford, Ill., and Pat Pitchford, El Paso, Tex. Before the excitement of pledging was over, we had initiation for Carol Copeland and Alice Neville.

At long last the Beta Iota beauties are being recognized! Dot Beer was queen of Club First Nighter, and Pat Parker and Ginny Campbell are both finalists for the title of Homecoming Queen.

These last two months have been busy ones for the members of Beta Omega. Rush week opened Sept. 10 with a successful openhouse. Our traditional Show Boat party and impressive Theta Heaven party, a new theme, followed. We were all thrilled when we pledged 24 wonderful girls.

They are: Julie Fite, Seattle; Sally LeRoy, Baton Rouge, La.; Sally Eisele, Phoenix, Ariz.; Connie Cover, Okmulgee, Okla.; Beverly Byrd, Amarillo, Tex.; Natalie Cobaugh and Connie Chesmore, St. Joseph, Mo.; Marcia Sehm, Peoria, Ill.; Patricia Patterson, Chicago; Jane Addenbrooke, Winnetka, Ill.; Martha McGowen, Decatur, Ill.; Peggy Root, Glencoe, Ill.; Gail Lund, Oak Park, Ill.; Joyce Westrich, Divide; Barbara Robinson, Beth Sullivan and Jane Runyan, Colorado Springs, and Sally Beery, Virginia Beresford, Babbette Baldwin, Virginia Arnold, Barbara Gates, Nancy Winters and Betty Davis, all from Denver. Formal pledging took place Sept. 24.

Our second big event followed on Oct. 8 when Caroline Spackman, Darlene Bader, Mary Lu Carnaby, Jane Wallace, Evelyn Andrews and Gail Williams were initiated.

Our social calendar has been full, too. An openhouse honoring the new pledges and iniates was a tremendous success. So was the dance given by the pledges for the chapter. Their clever theme, "Argyles for Our Guys," with argyle sox and sweaters decorating the walls and tiny argyle sox for favors, made a big hit with everyone.

We are proud that already this year two of our girls are queens. Sally Organ was crowned "Miss C.C." at the annual publications dance, and Barbara Harvey was chosen to represent Colorado college in the national Esquire Girl contest. We also are proud of Connie Chesmore, freshman representative to the Quadrangle association; Alice Altendorf, recently elected sophomore commissioner, and Natalie Cobaugh, who won the intramural tennis championship.

Homecoming this year was something of a disappointment for us, for this was the first time in four years that the Theta float did not take first place. We had a grand time working on it, however, and hope to regain the cup next year.

Colorado State

Homecoming weekend was a gala occasion at Colorado A. & M., and the Thetas were perhaps the most joyous co-eds in existence. Elainc Carlson, one of our sophomores, was chosen by vote of the entire student body to reign as Queen over the Homecoming celebrations, and Pat Burns was her attendant. But that's not all —a trophy for the best house decorations was presented to the Thetas at the annual Homecoming dance. All of us felt duly rewarded for the long hours of hard work that were spent in constructing the huge black and white outline map of the United States on which the mascots of Brigham Young University and Colorado Aggies were shaking hands across the states of Utah and Colorado.

Our new pledges have already taken an active part in school activities. Betty Harden and Gerry Walp were elected presidents of their respective dormitories, and Sally Moore is serving as social chairman in her dorm. In the recent freshman elections, Pat Blakely was elected secretary, and Betty Harden was chosen to represent the freshman class on the Student Council.

Eight Thetas were chosen to represent various campus organizations at the annual Leadership Conference, at which campus leaders meet to discuss mutual problems and to formulate campus organizational policies.

Shirley Robertson was elected president of Hesperia, national junior women's honorary, and Mary Lou Connors was elected secretary. Four of the 13 members of Hesperia are Thetas.

Newest pledges of Beta Gamma are Shirley Taylor, Fort Collins; Lois West, New Jersey, and Kay Bokke, Denver. The newly elected pledge officers are Sally Moore, president; Mary Link, vice president; Dottie Riesor, secretary; Jeanne Cooley, treasurer, and Mary Ann Walker, song leader.

The new year has brought many changes to Gamma Zeta. We are living in a brand new house and have a grand new resident counselor, Mrs. McNelly. We are thrilled with our living room, which is now completely furnished. The modern theme is carried out by the blonde mahogany furniture, the leather-topped tables and the exciting colors of cherry red, chartreuse, dark green and brown. The living room has a huge picture window and we shall be able to see the lake as soon as the landscapers get to work. We expect to open our dining room in a few weeks.

October 21 was Homecoming, and we honored our returning alumnæ with a coffee after the game. It was wonderful to see so many of them. We had lots of fun putting up our display. The theme was "Put the bite on Maine," and the huge teeth were opened and closed by Theta "woman power."

We were pleased and honored to have our ditrict president, Mrs. C. H. Shattuck, visit us on October 11.

Thirty children were entertained by the Thetas on October 27. We gave our third annual Halloween Party for these underprivileged children from Willimantic. They had a great time ducking for apples, playing musical chairs, and singing.

Last spring the Thetas carried home a trophy from the Community Chest Carnival for the most original idea. Our pie-throwing contest brought us the hard-earned trophy.

We are so proud of our new Mortar Board members, Mary Jezyk and Roberta Mann, who were chosen last spring at the Co-Ed Formal. Mary has been elected vice president of the group.

On April 18, Barbara Cannon, Betty Heller and Mary Robinson became Theta pledges.

Five wonderful girls were wearing the black and gold kite for the first time on May 2. The new initiates: Joyce Calchera, Ellen Cox, Lois Frank, Mari-Anne Talbot and Adrienne Zimmerman. We were pleased, too, to welcome Virginia Carney, Betty Heller, Geneva Mc-Meekin and Mary Robinson as sisters. They were initiated on Oct. 10.

Back to school and back to Theta! And what a busy fall it has been for Iota. On Sept. 27 we had our first social event of the year, a reception for our new housemother, Mrs. Phin, who came to us from Pine Manor Junior college. Then on Sept. 30 we had a slumber party, with all 48 Thetas enjoying an evening of fun, food and ever so little sleep. It was the perfect opportunity to catch up on the summer's news!

But all our activities have not been confined to Thetas. An informal openhouse, Oct. 6, let the campus know we were really back. Invitations were sent to 22 fraternities and to other friends.

Next the chapter was invited to an exchange dinner at the Phi Delta Theta house. Activities with other sororities, too, have been part of our fall program. On Oct. 17 a Panhellenic progressive dinner was held, sending groups of Thetas to all other sororities, and their members to our house. A course a house was the order of the day, and it was lots of fun.

Mrs. Munz, our district president, came Oct. 23 for a two-day visit. We enjoyed having her with us and chatting with her. There always are new things to learn about Theta.

We have been busy with out-of-house activities, too. Several of us are working on committees at Willard Straight hall, the Cornell student union. Others work on the Cornell Daily Sun, The Cornellian and the Widow boards. Women's Athletic association, W.S.G.A. and the Cornell United Religious Works are also included in our activities list.

Beta Tau is delighted with its new pledge class of 26 marvelous girls: Sally Adelberger, Dayton; Nancy Baylor, Springfield; Mary Brooks, Pelham, N.Y.; Suzanne Covington, Ashland, Ky.; Annie Creel, Cleveland; Carole Donahey, Reynoldsburg; Jo Ellis, and Mary Jo Gibbs, Shaker Heights; Nancy Eshelman, Circleville; Harriett Faxon, Lakewood; Helen Ferenbaugh, Barbara Hayes, Betty Miller and Janet Wright, Columbus; Jane Fischer and Jeanne Kirsten, Cincinnati; Audrey Goodman, Newark, N.J.; Nancy Howe, Birmingham, Mich.; Julie Leib, Pittsburgh; Mary Morris and Jane Yearley, Oak Park, Ill.; Julie Robinson, Rocky River; Kitty Schell, Indianapolis, Ind.; Zoe Schofield, Wausau, Wis.; Nancy Sloan, Sioux City, Ia., and Marlen Thompson, Swarthmore.

To add to the excitement of pledge night, the SAEs serenaded sorority circle. Their songs, roses and flaming Greek letters thrilled us all. Then, on Oct. 16, we welcomed Jean Pumphrey, Christine Fredrickson, Helen Nagel, Barbara Peters and Nancy Evans as kite wearers.

New members and old have been keeping us in the spotlight. With Winnie Webb and Dee Eyton as attendants to the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Peggy Pole, Susie Simons and Joan LeRoy as new members of the Junior Women's Honorary, Cross Keys. Sally Brown has not only been elected president of Mortar Board, but is also president of Women's Judiciary Council. Salli MacSwords and Lynn Olwin are vice presidents of the sophomore and junior classes, respectively. On October 23, the annual Honors Convocation was held which announced that eighteen Thetas were on the Dean's list, and two sophomores were elected to Phi Society.

Remembering old adages about "all work ...," we decided we really should have a little social life. On April 24, the Theta house was the scene of a Panhellenic formal dance, the theme being "It Might As Well Be Spring." After extensive study of masculine psychology, we knew we'd make a hit with hand-knit argyles for favors!

Last spring the Beta Tau's challenged the Ohio State Thetas to a baseball game which furthered our close relationship with the Alpha Gamma chapter.

Further entertainment consisted of a Box

Supper for dates held at our social advisor, Ginny Butz's, lovely home; a western party this fall, and numerous inter-sorority and fraternity socializings.

The chapter wants to welcome Mrs. M. M. Shoemaker as new chairman of the advisory board. She has already proved to be both thoughtful and understanding and a great help to the chapter. We are sorry to lose to California Mrs. Madelaine Rupp, our beloved "Pinky," who for years, as chairman of the advisory board, has cheered and chided, soothed and scolded us.

Alpha girls returned Sept. 10 to find that our house had been rejuvenated during the summer by those fairy godmothers, the alums. We are thrilled with the new decor of our front hall and telephone room and with the addition of a deep freeze and enormous new refrigerator.

No less thrilled are we with our 23 new pledges. At an openhouse Sept. 22, we presented to all comers: Natalia Beck, Anderson; Dusty Bishop, Jean Knect and Jean Mason, Evanston, Ill.; Ann Collett, Helen Curry, Nan Hall and Marilyn Holtman, Indianapolis; Betty and Marge Davis, Gary; Jean DeButts, Chicago; Ann Emison, Tarrytown, N.Y.; Nancy Langsenkamp, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; Barbara Loveday, Elgin, Ill.; Susie Matlock, Kokomo; Janice Miles, Greencastle; Marilyn Shanks, Chicago Heights, Ill.; Beverly Stern and Lynne Wonderlin, Decatur, Ill.; Barbara Swain, La Grange, Ill.; Frances Swanstrom, Rockford, Ill.; Martha Swintz, South Bend, and Joan Westmen, Scarsdale, N.Y.

As for our social season, that began Oct. 1, when we staged a lawn supper for approximately 150 housemothers, house presidents, and members of the DePauw faculty. The party was a repeat of one that Alpha gave last spring, at which time we could entertain only half the faculty. Both events were big successes, with much joking and informality, which only goes to show professors are human too!

Since that first big date on our social calendar, a lot of other memorable occasions have been marked down too. These include exchanges, serenades, and a buffet supper for the entire football team one Saturday afternoon after a home game. But the climax of everything was what we imagine will long be known to Alpha Thetas as "our week." On Wednesday evening, October 18, we won the inter-sorority swimming meet for the tenth successive year. Three days later, on Saturday the 21st, we not only took first place among sororities for homecoming decorations, but a Theta sophomore, Sandy Spangler, was crowned homecoming queen!

So, although the year has hardly begun, the Thetas are already busy on campus. Barbara Groenke and Bella Russell have been pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic honorary. Jo Bigham and Sandy Spangler are new members of Orchesis, modern dance group. All in all, this promises to be a full and exciting year.

Drake

When we all returned to the house this fall, we found that our new housemother, Mrs. Edna Bennett from Marshalltown, is really a Theta mother. Her daughter, Doris, now Mrs. John Byrne, is an alumna of Beta Kappa, having been graduated from Drake in 1934.

After six days of rush, on Sept. 21 we pledged 15 girls who are now seen around campus wearing the black and gold pledge pins. They are: Janice Carlson, Katie Jenkins, Joyce Meston and Liz Adams, Des Moines; Sue Bechler, Sac City; Sandra Blymyer, Clarendon Hills, Ill.; Donna Cameron, Moline, Ill.; Nancy Gray, Aurora, Ill.; Mary Garland Henning, Williston, N.D.; Norma Nelson, Warner, S.D.; Norma Polk, Marshalltown; Patricia Roselle, Minneapolis; Patricia Slinger, Charles City; Mary Whitney, Elmhurst, Ill., and Marlene Williams, Downers Grove, Ill.

Oct. 29 we initiated four girls: Ann Carpenter, Joan Coffey, Paula Fowler and Marney Hinn.

This year our president, Betty Rae Willis, is a member of Margaret Fuller-Sieve and Shears, local honorary now petitioning Mortar Board, and of National Collegiate Who's Who. Vice president Ruth Ann Fredericks is also in Margaret Fuller-Sieve and Shears and is president of Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary. Sandra Blymyer, Nancy Gray and Patricia Roselle are in Women's League, while Grace Dunn is a new member of both Women's League and Phi Sigma Iota, languages honorary. Mary Garland Henning, Patricia Slinger and Mary Whitney are members of Kappa Beta Kappa, professional education group. Eleanor Nicoll and Paula Fowler are members of the Homecoming Queen's court.

October 29 GRACE DUNN

Keeping track of the Beta Rhos this summer was our "Kite," edited by Molly Bixby who really did a marvelous job. The pain of returning from our vacations was alleviated somewhat by the anticipation of seeing our beautiful newly-redecorated chapter room. We were also eager to gaze upon the lovely Efficiency Cup which Carolyn Morse had brought back to us from Grand Convention.

We were all thrilled by the announcement that our chapter now adds four more names to the Phi Beta Kappa roll: Wink Boone, Jana Hanser, Ruthann Imler and Carolyn Morse. We must again doff our hats to Wink, too, for she is also the chairman of Student Forum this year.

With the fall dances and football games at their peak, we find that our queens are in great demand. For Homecoming royalty, the campus has chosen two of our belles, Molly Bixby and Marion Chapman, as candidates. At the same time, the Coed Ball is descending upon us with the following Thetas gracing the Beauty Court: Marjorie Arthur, Molly Bixby, Marion Chapman, Janice Cresap and Mary Flannery.

With the culmination of the last few weeks' activities on the Duke campus, Beta Rho once more lifts its head with pride. On the evening of Oct. 20, our chapter room resounded to "Three Cheers for Theta" as we welcomed 15 new pledges. They are: Jessica Barton, Memphis, Tenn.; Beverly Brown, Baton Rouge, La.; Susie Claughton and Sally Stanback, Miami, Fla.; Janice Cresap, Miami Beach, Fla.; Audrey Earle, Durham; Mary Flannery and Carrell Power, Coral Gables, Fla.; Frances Flinton and Fay Mitchell, Charlotte; Helen Foppert, Philadelphia; Marianna McGee, Savannah, Ga.: Frances Rodgers, Clayton, Mo.; Linda Watkins, Fairmont, W.Va., and Connie Wise, Winter Haven, Fla. (NOT SIGNED)

Florida

Jeanne Bosanquet, our president and delegate to Grand Convention, brought back so many good ideas that Beta Nu profited by having a most successful and well organized rush week. We are extremely proud of our 17 new pledges: Ardis Bourland, Greenville, S.C.; Nancy Casey, Jeanie Craig, Carol Peterson and Patricia Watson, Coral Gables; Susan Coolidge, Clearwater; Delores Deland, Katherine Mason and Betty Srygley, Tallahassee; Jacqueline Fowler, Claire Kenyon and Beth Melson, Jacksonville; Gerry Goodnight, Pensacola; Jane Haberkorn, Ft. Lauderdale; Yvonne McCarthy, Miami; Marilyn Stevens, St. Augustine, and Ann Sheffield, West Palm Beach.

Initiation was Oct. 20 for Beatrice Fosgate and Darlene Missio. Darlene is president of the Cotillion dance club.

Beta Nu's are just now relaxing from a wonderful Homecoming weekend. Our float won first prize in the parade, and Joann Vaughn was one of four girls chosen by popular vote to be in the court of the queen. We entertained all visiting alumnæ and our district president, Mrs. Norman Skeels, at an openhouse after the game.

This year we have gone all out for campus activities. Thirteen of our members are to be in the annual Sandspur production, with Jackie Morris playing the leading role and Claire Kenyon acting as her understudy. We also have many members in Circus and Cotillion club. Three of our pledges, Ardis Bourland, Janie Haberkorn and Beth Melson, have been tapped for Village Vamps, the campus cuties.

Orchids to Bobbie Pettit who was elected the National Dream Girl of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity this past summer at their convention. She has been re-elected Dream Girl of the local Pi Kappa Alpha chapter on campus. Jackie Morris was chosen the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi, and Joann Vaughn was elected Queen of Phi Kappa Tau for 1950.

October 30 JOY COBB

George Washington

Last spring was a wonderful season for the Thetas at George Washington. The chapter got a big send-off when our candidate, Lynn Mitchell, was elected May Queen for the uni-

We were thrilled again when Patty McNally, Phi Sig's "Moonlight Girl" at George Washington, won the title for the district, including the three Phi Sig chapters in the Washington area. Margaret Fritchie added another feather to our cap when she won the "Daisy Mae" contest at the Charity Dance for Cancer. Judge of the contest was Al Capp himself, inventor of Daisy Mae in his "Lil Abner" comic strip.

Theta at G.W. carried away other honors, too. Anne Noyes was elected to Mortar Board and to Phi Beta Kappa, while Barbara Benner was chosen for Tassells, sophomore honorary. As our delegate to Panhellenic council, Barbara also serves as secretary of that body. Nancy Cochran, Anne Maupin and Anne Noyes were elected to Del Phi, honorary society for sorority women.

Our summer rush season started with a party at the home of Mrs. Omar Bradley, a member of the Washington Alumnæ chapter. Thanks to our efficient rush chairman, Anne Maupin, our rushing was successful and we pledged a fine class of 13 girls. They are: Nancy Abbott, Caroline Billingsley, Helen Biren, Virginia Boyle, Lorna Coughlin, Gwen Davies, Betty Daley, Ellen Ingersol, Margaret Seiler, Harriett Tyson, Myrta Wiley, Sally Woods, and Margaret Smith, a transfer pledge from Gamma Mu chapter at Maryland, who was repledged with our chapter.

The fall social season began for us with an openhouse at our rooms on Oct. 29. During the summer we had an exchange with Kappa Sigma, and our first exchange this fall will be with Sigma Chi.

October 30

SUSAN LAW

Georgia

We returned to Georgia full of inspiration, having won the Forward Cup at Grand Convention in June.

Nineteen wonderful girls were welcomed into our pledge class. They are: Betty Jane Randall, Covington; Marquin Conklin, Gail Fickling, Phyllis Johnson, Jean Sawyer, Lucille Richardson and Diane Maltby, all of Atlanta; Eleanor Ellis and Ann Naismith, Savannah; Joan Cox, Morrow; Coralyn Proctor, College Park; Dora Ann Little and Paula Morris, Ocilla; Carol Hood, Calhoun; Nancy Cooper, Athens; Harriet Gillam, LaGrange; Eleanor Myers, Marietta; Nell Newton, Jacksonville, Fla., and Barbara Register, Endicott, N.Y. We honored our pledges with a dance and a breakfast on Oct. 20.

Gamma Delta also extends a welcome to Louise Wilson who is a transfer from Kentucky. Louise already holds a Phi Beta Kappa key!

We are very proud of our members who have been outstanding on the campus. Joan Kemp was one of the seven girls tapped for Z Club, the highest honor obtained by a freshman girl. Joan also holds the office of secretary of Coordinate Student Government. We miss Mickey Weider who was unable to return to school this fall. She was also tapped for Z Club and was elected president of Coordinate Student Government in the Spring. We are very proud that another Theta, Marion Bell was recently elected the new president. This is the third consecutive year that a Theta has held this office!

Hooray for Elizabeth Price! She was presented with the Zodiac Award on Honors Day for having the highest average in the freshman class. Erskine Forgy was elected president of Lucy Cobb Dormitory and secretary of Women's Student Government. Gilmer Hall girls chose one of our new pledges, Lucille Richardson, as their new president. Lillian Powell was elected secretary-treasurer of the Modern Dance Club.

Talented Eddith Blair has one of the leading roles in Johann Strauss' "Die Fledermaus" which is being held in Atlanta.

Our pledges won a cup for placing first in the fifth event of the Annual Sigma Chi Derby held Oct. 21. Plans are already being made for Homecoming festivities scheduled for the weekend of Dec. 2.

October 28

FLORENCE FOREHAND

Idaho

After a week of successful rushing, Beta Theta pledged 23 girls on Sept. 14. These girls are: Jean and Ann Royer and Sharon Roden, Boise; Janice and Ann Morgan, Burley; Barbara Pearce and Mary Grace Sparkman, Wallace; Patricia Cameron and Marietta Cloos, Lewiston; Margaret Patton and Charlotte Pennington, Sandpoint; Hazel Bell, Hagerman; Patricia Rambo, Midvale; Joan Elkins, Newport, Wash.; Ann Eames, American Falls; Bebb Galloway, Hayden Lake; Mary Joyce Briggs, St. Anthony; Beverly Gallup, Betty Ann Johansen, Marilyn Bauer, Joyce Rudolf, Kathryn Barstow and Jane Perry, Moscow. Following pledging ceremonies, a formal banquet was given in honor of the new pledges.

Three new members were initiated Sept. 9. The latest girls to wear the Theta kite at Beta Theta are Lorraine Bernat, Helen Pohlod and Lois Ann Saunders. They were honored at a breakfast after initiation.

Last spring the traditional get-together with Alpha Sigma chapter was postponed because of finals and other conflicts. However, on Sept. 28 they were our guests at a picnic supper. Everyone cooperated very nicely except old Sol. On the day set for the picnic, he refused to shine at all. Nevertheless, we had our picnic even though it was held in our living room.

Homecoming is a high spot for our chapter each year. This year many of our alumnæ were at the chapter house on Oct. 14 to take part in the celebration. We held open house and had a buffet dinner for our guests in the late afternoon as a climax to a victorious football game.

Janice Morgan, a new pledge, was crowned Idaho Sigma Alpha Epsilon Freshman Queen at a formal dance given on Oct. 20 by SAE. She is also one of the five finalists in the Alpha Tau Omega Esquire Girl contest. Another finalist from our house in this contest is Charlotte Pennington, who is our pledge class president.

The annual dance honoring the pledges was held Nov. 10. The theme for the dance was "Seventh Heaven." Decorations were carried out in a gold living room and silver dining room. Around the living room were 23 miniature angels sitting on a cloud of angel's hair. Each angel bore the name of a pledge.

At a university assembly on Oct. 17, Beta Theta chapter was presented the Beulah Garrard Dale scholarship cup for high scholarship among women's living groups on the University of Idaho campus. The chapter was also the highest in scholarship on the entire campus with a 2.90 average. Winning this scholarship cup was a wonderful way to begin the school year.

CHARLOTTE HENRY

Illinois

Orchids from Delta to National for the impressive convention held at Swampscott last summer. The delegates were inspired by the speeches, and they appreciated the opportunity to meet Thetas from many places. Expect a large Delta delegation in 1952!

We ended a successful rush week last spring, tired but enthusiastic about its grand results. We pledged: Carole Clark, Cynthia Shorb, Colleen Leahy and Florence Kraabel, Decatur; Carol Conard, Rossville; Connie Cook, Riverside; Louise Drechsler, Barbara Huth and Mary Alice Huyler, Wilmette; Marylee Fletcher, Sandra Smith and Jean Weiss, Champaign; Barbara Kampmeyer, La Grange; Patricia Kuebler, Downers Grove; Elaine Linford and Ruth Mautz, Urbana; Carol Maher, Winnetka; Virginia Mersbach, Lakewood, Ohio; Diane Rutter, Chicago, and Marlene Ungeher, Park Ridge.

Hats off to five new sisters in the bond! On Oct. 15 we initiated Joan Leahy, Frances Little, Mary Russell, Irma Schickedanz and Marilyn Toombs.

Scholastically Delta has held its own by remaining in the first quartile among sororities, with a house average of 3.83 for the last semester. This announcement was made at a Panhellenic scholarship banquet Oct. 7.

Delta continues to lead in many activities. Carol Thomas and Joyce Drew were initiated by Mortar Board last spring. Carol is editor of the yearbook, and Joyce is president of YWCA. Also, five juniors are new members of Torch. They are Virginia Kraabel, Nancy Haas, Marilyn North, Irma Schickedanz and Eleanor Sifferd. This fall Valerie Ramey and Laura Donagher were pledged to Si-Ai, sophomore activity honorary.

Delta won second place among sororities for Homecoming decorations this fall. We were glad to see so many of our alumnæ back for all the festivities that weekend.

November 1

JANE SULLIVAN

Indiana

Although we have been back at Indiana university for only four weeks, we have two big affairs behind us. Homecoming this year was as gay and busy as ever. The pledges bustled all the preceding week on decorations, and the house bustled all weekend with dozens of welcome alumnæ.

The following weekend was ruled by a much more solemn spirit, for on Oct. 15 we initiated 13 sophomore pledges. They were: Margaret Bolden, Carol Lynn Blackburn, Ruth Dry, Barbara Dutton, Jan Froeb, Patricia Fagaly, Marilyn Halleck, Nancy Hyatt, Sharon Kremp, Jane La Rue, Shirley Lyons, Sue Soenksen and Roz Watson. Three of these girls, Jan Froeb, Carol Lynn Blackburn and Nancy Hyatt, have been chosen members of Tophets, sophomore honorary for organized women.

Other girls who hold important positions in campus activities include Jean Gordon, our president and member of Mortar Board; Joan Reis, Pleiades, campus honorary for junior and senior organized women, and Jan Nicely, social chairman for the Association of Women Students

Beyond exchange dinners and tea dances, our house social activities have been confined to a rush dinner for transfer students on Oct. 24. We will have our first fall rush party for freshmen on Nov. 5. We are proud, too, of our five summer pledges: Nancy Lou Dickens, Martinsville; Phyllis Owens, Elwood; Sharon Thomas, Fort Wayne, and Patricia Wilson and Jody Hoster, Indianapolis.

October 17

F. M. FOLAND

Iowa

Beta Omicron culminated rush week successfully with a pledge class of 11 girls: Marian Beers, Waterloo; Betty Lou Brunson, Davenport; Kay Freck, Anne Grothe and Margaret Horner, Des Moines; Barbara Flower, Oelwein; Carolyn Johnson, Laurens; Mary Ann Johnson, Jefferson; Joan Killinger, Cedar Rapids; Joyce Lindusky, Sioux City, and Sharon Sealy, Cedar Rapids.

This fall found four Thetas who added Phi Beta Kappa keys to their kites. Members of the Theta "braintrust" are Marge Campbell, Linda Leuchauer, Bonnie Jean Miller and Mary Vande Steeg. Marge reigned as Military Cadet Colonel last spring.

"Casey" Covert not only "struck" Mortar Board but also holds the position of Women's Director at WSUI, which position, by the way, has been held by Thetas for nearly five years. Ann Gilson is treasurer of the University Women's Association. The Women's Recreation Association elected Kayo Flodin as its treasurer. Marilyn Killinger is a cabinet member of the Home Ec Club. A coveted position on the Orientation Council was earned by Sally Irish with assistant leaderships going to Peggy Lutz and Ann Meloy.

Mickie Berg proved herself a campus beauty when she was chosen a Dolphin Queen attendant at the annual water show which was presented Homecoming weekend.

The social calendar found the Thetas in a whirl of exchanges. The Fijis entertained us at the Turtle Club while the Sig Alph's presented a terrific floor show to culminate an evening dessert. An informal Halloween buffetdance was held Oct. 29 in the chapter house. Our annual winter formal, "Mistletoe Magic," is scheduled for Dec. 9.

Faculty dinners, sorority exchanges and monthly teas we hope will help to further extend Theta friendship.

November 1

ANNE FENTON

Iowa State

Gamma Pi Thetas had a most successful rush week this fall with Marilyn Wyant as rush chairman. We filled our quota with these ten girls: Joyce Gray and Martha Stuber, Ames; Caryl Ives, Wilmette, Ill.; Judy Jerold, Waterloo; Deborah Lincoln, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Ann Peterson, Port Washington, N.Y.; Sue Stanchfield, Minneapolis; Sonia Vegell, Elmhurst, Ill., and Nancy Wilson (sister of Joan) and Barbara Nore, Sioux City.

Iowa State's Homecoming Pep Queen was Rita Dunn. Rita is a sophomore, and one of Iowa State's cheer leaders. Nancy C. Wilson was general secretary for the Homecoming central committee; Jo Pletch was also on the central committee. Donna Reeves, Patricia Warrington and Mickey Leibov also held Homecoming offices.

Thetas busy on campus publications are Dorothy Creelman, Woman's Editor of the Iowa State Daily, and Betty Elliot, art editor for the Bomb, campus yearbook. Other Thetas on the Bomb staff are Joan Pletch, Cheryl Mc-Kenna and Barbara Barkley. Patricia Warrington is sales manager for Sketch, campus literary magazine, and Jean Barkley is advertising manager for Green Gander, campus humor magazine. Dorothy Kent is also on the advertising staff.

Iowa State's Veishea celebration was a big success for Thetas. Jo Ary was elected "Queen of Queens" to reign over the three day celebration, and Barbara Krueger was an attendant. Barb and Jo made another appearance this fall as finalists in the Esquire Calendar Girl contest sponsored by the campus newspaper. Barb won the beauty contest, and will represent Iowa State in the national contest. Thetas also claimed Veishea trophies for Veishea coupon sales and canoe races.

Active in campus home economics organizations are Marjorie Larimer, who was elected to Omicron Nu, home economics honorary, and Janie Payseur, president of Home Economics Education club. Janie, Cheryl McKenna and Letitia Kneen are members of the Home Economics Education council.

Musicians Nancy Neff and Janie Payseur were elected to membership in Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music honorary. Nancy was also chosen chairman of Sor-Dor, campus sing.

Theta also took Iowa State scholarship honors when the pledge class won the scholarship trophy. The pledges had the highest scholarship ever recorded for a fraternity pledge group at Iowa State.

JEAN BARKLEY

Kansas

Our new pledges are: Betty Carmean, Susan Forney, Ann King, Nancy Landon and Mary Ream, Topeka; Carolyn Campbell, Jean Stoneman, Marilyn Muehlbach, Mary Jo Record and Sara Starry, Kansas City, Mo.; Patricia Houston and Ann Kitchen, Tulsa, Okla.; Nan Mosby, Birmingham, Mich.; Sally McKernan, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Suzanne Speck, Joplin, Mo.; Nancy Gilchrist, Lawrence; Dorothy Lee Wandling, Milwaukee, Wis.; Gretchen Wormhoudt, Ottumwa, Iowa; Nancy Hampton, Mission, and Janis Murphy, Salina. We introduced our new pledges to the University at a formal open house, Oct. 6.

On Oct. 15, we initiated Ann Spears and Joanne Goodjohn. Affiliation service for Nancy Woodruff, Alpha Upsilon, was held Oct. 17.

Our annual senior dinner climaxed last spring semester. Sixteen of our girls were graduated: Virginia Daugherty, Ann Gage, Norma Jean Guthrie, Edith Malott, Janet Malott, Betsy McCune, Mary Jane Merriman, Mercedes Muir, Mary Jean Oliver, Jeanne Peterson, Barbara Ramsey, Nancy Van Bebber, Mary Sue Weimer, Sally Welker, Mary Witcher, and Sally Sue Woodward.

Three Thetas made Mortar Board last spring: Marjorie Crane, Larry Ross and Carolyn Weigand. Barbara Nash and Carolyn Weigand were pledged to Phi Alpha Theta, honorary history fraternity. Betsy Swigart and Judy Veatch were pledged to Delta Phi Delta, art fraternity. Sydney Ashton was elected cheer leader; Marjorie Crane was elected president of Jay Janes, pep organization, and Larry Ross was elected vice president of the senior class. Betsy and Louise Swigart were chosen the outstanding sophomore and freshman in design by the faculty. At a tea on Oct. 25, we were presented the scholarship cup for having the highest sorority scholastic average last year.

We are fortunate this year in having a German exchange student, Edith Hagmeier, live with us. Edith has fit into our house activities very easily. She even helped us during rush week by playing the piano!

DOLORES DEAN

Kentucky

Kentucky's Mid-Century Homecoming is being celebrated in Lexington by a week of parades and square dances attended by bewhiskered men in coon-skin caps and by women in sun bonnets and calico. Five lovely University of Kentucky coeds are reigning over each of the five days of celebration and one of these will be chosen Homecoming Queen and presented at the football game which will climax the week's activities. Three of the five reigning beauties are Theta representatives Betty Blake, Rosemary Foster and Alice Stansbury.

In addition to our homecoming activities, we are continuing our service project of going to the Veterans' Hospital once a month to entertain the ex-G.I.'s there. It makes us very humble to see how much those boys appreciate the little bit we can do to make their stay there more pleasant.

We recently welcomed into membership Jane Bartlett of Owensboro, and Virginia Todd of Fort Meade, Md.

We are happy to announce that after a successful rush season the following girls pledged Theta: Martha Lee Bach, Guam; Nancy Lou Ballard and Martha Menaugh, Harrodsburg; Mildred Bell, Dora Coleman, Kay King, Ruth Mantle, Maureen Mefford and

Also Coleman Hunter, Ashland; Margaret Little, Freeport, Ill.; Mary McKay, Franklin; Ann McKeel, Bowling Green; Sue Newell, Maysville; Polly Puryear, Morganfield; Patricia Risen and Alice Stansbury, Louisville; Diane Roddick, Chicago; Bonnie Schupert, Warsaw, and Sarah Ann Taylor, Lewisport. MARY JO BISHOP October

Last semester was an eventful one for Alpha Psi. Sara Denman, Jackie Robbins, Jean Reynolds and Peggy Johnston were four of the six beauty queens honored at the Spring Prom, while Barbara Morris was the Prom Queen. Lenore Hooley presided as Queen of the May with two other Thetas, Sara Denman and Joan Queenan, in her court. Later, Lenore Hooley and Elaine Johnson were chosen as two of the four "Best Loved" senior girls on campus. One other queen we had among us was Margaret Scott, who was the sweetheart of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

In sports, the Thetas came out on top by winning the intersorority sports plaque for the third year in a row, so now we have it for our very own. Dorothy Williams won a coveted participation medal.

Shirily Hansen was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and also won the Fulbright Scholarship.

This semester, too, started out eventfully, when we pinned the black and gold pledge pin on 26 girls: Barbara Arado, Marilyn Carlson, Marian Martin, Betsy Packard and Betty Wilson, Chicago, Ill.; Nancy Campbell and Barbara Zierke, Appleton; Leanne Atkinson and Janet Evans, Green Bay; Patricia Brehm, Waukesha; Sylvia Brown, Arlington Heights, Ill.; Susan Hooley, Milwaukee; Sally Kelly, Marengo, Ill.; Margaret Link, Western Springs, Ill.; Ruth Olson, Dubuque, Iowa; Mary Peterson, Lake Mills; Nancy Preston, Excelsior, Minn.; Elizabeth Ritter, Glencoe, Ill.; June Taylor, Noroton, Conn.; Ann Tufte, Elkhart Lake; Janet and Joy Welker, Ashland; Mary West, Toledo, Ohio; Barbara Jerebek, Algoma; Janet McConachie, Oak Park, Ill., and Carolyn Roeder, Kenosha.

Cynthia Furber, secretary of the Student Executive Council, was co-head of freshman week, and Joan Arado, Dorothy Williams and Jean Guion are counselors in the freshman dormitory.

Dorothy Williams is also intramural sports head, and Joan Arado is co-chairman for homecoming.

In the future, we're all looking forward to two touch football games, one against the woman's faculty team and the other against the Delta Gammas.

JEAN GUION

McGill

After an interesting, and varied summer, we are back again in the swing of things here at Beta Psi, with Jane Brenchley as our efficient and enthusiastic president.

June Walker and Janie Robb toured Europe this past summer and are so enthusiastic about their trip that we have all decided that Europe is really a "must." Jean Gillespie just returned from England this past week after spending a good deal of time in both Scotland and England. Joan O'Connell was very fortunate in obtaining an ISS scholarship to Europe for the summer and met June Walker and Janie Robb in Paris for a true Theta rendezvous. Incidentally, Joan is one of the first McGill women to receive this award.

This year we are really well represented on the McGill campus. Martha Wickendon is president of the Panhellenic Association and also president of Red Wings, honorary society for McGill women whose purpose is to serve as the "official hostesses of McGill University." June DeVaux is secretary-treasurer of the Red Wings, and Margaret Shipman, Diane Lillie, Betty Sutherland, Babette Radley and Barbara Chambers are all members. Ann Lyons is secretary of the McGill Winter Carnival this year, and also of the Combined Charities Drive, two very important positions.

Athletically we have held our own, with June DeVaux and Marg Davidson as two of the four members of the McGill tennis team. Marg is player-manager, and June has won the intercollegiate singles championship. Diane Brenchley is treasurer of the M.W.S.A.A. this year. June DeVaux has had little spare time as she was also chairman of the Freshette Reception Committee.

BETTY TOSCANO

Maryland

The entire spring term was one of much Theta activity on the Maryland campus. Newly initiated during the spring semester were: Roberta Bafford, Rita Brockmeyer, Helen Dedicott, Jaimie Long, Mary Lou McKinley, Elizabeth Poteet, Sue Patton, Janice Roberts, Margaret Simmons and Nancy Vosburgh.

Individually, Thetas penetrated various phases of university activities. In journalism, Mary Lakeman was named women's editor of Old Line, college magazine, and Roberta Bafford was a staff member of Terrapin, our yearbook. Prominent Thetas in drama and dance were: Bettye Smith, former president of University Theatre, who had the lead in "My Sister Eileen;" Jaimie Long, who participated in the Modern Dance Concert, and Mary Lakeman, who headed the properties committee for two productions. Joan Morrison was an active member of the Senior Prom committee and was ticket chairman.

Busy as we were in activities, scholarship was not ignored. Marilyn Langford was named to Mortar Board, the first Maryland Theta to receive this honor. She also is president of Omicron Nu, home economics honorary, and recipient of the Danforth scholarship. Qualifying for Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary, were Mary Lou Mc-Kinley and Sue Patton. Mary Lakeman was tapped for membership in University Theatre and in Pi Delta Epsilon, journalism honorary.

Gamma Mu also carried out activities vital to a chapter aspiring to build and furnish its own home. Benefit projects included a card party, a rummage sale and a television raffle. The Mothers' club and the Washington and Baltimore alumnæ helped with the rummage sale, and the Washington Alumnæ sponsored the television raffle with which the active chapter assisted.

Throughout the semester, exchange dinners and desserts were held with the fraternities. Our spring formal was May 13 at the Willard Hotel in Washington, and we had a beach party May 30.

Formal rushing and informal parties this fall resulted in a record-sized pledge class for Gamma Mu. The 22 new pledges are: Judy Atkinson, Barbara Bumgarner, Betty Collier, Lois Crane, Carroll Crater, Muriel Crowson, Teresa Di Paula, Muriel Duey, Nancy Herring, Eleanor Hodgson, Ann Houghton, Ann Hovgard, Phyllis Johnson, Lorraine Jorgenson, Kay Herrick, Eleanor Lawrence, Nancy Layne, Lois McNabe, Katherine Reno, Claire Requard, Molly Turner and Barbara Bagby.

We were happy, also, to welcome Patricia

Murphy, a transfer from Syracuse.

October 25 (Not Signed)

Massachusetts

Gamma Eta chapter is off to what promises to be another successful year. Five girls opened up the house, repainting and cleaning. The place really looked wonderful when the rest of us arrived.

The Thetas had a fine piece of news awaiting them when they arrived back for another year. The silver tea set, offered by the Panhellenic alumnæ for the highest sorority scholarship, will reside at Theta for a year. Keeping possession of the set will be a fine goal toward which to work. This excellent scholastic average is, in part, due to the three out of five of our seniors who are doing honors work—one each in the fields of English, chemistry and home economics. The honors go to Dianne Speed, Betty VanderPol, and Marilyn Derby.

On Oct. 8, Gamma Eta initiated 15 girls. After the initiation, the new members joined their sisters in a buffet supper. We were delighted to have Mrs. Shattuck with us for the initiation and a few days' visit. She gave us many helpful ideas, and she and Eunice Diamond, our president united to bring us a vivid and interesting picture of Grand Convention. The alumnæ board also visited us for a meeting, advising and helping in the problems that will confront us this year.

The problem to be faced currently is rushing. Our Round Robin was a busy time with 350 freshman prospects. Several days saw us making cupcakes, cookies, and candy. Now, with the parties ahead, the Gamma Etas have their heads together thinking up new ideas. The quota this year has been cut to 20, due to the overcrowded conditions in most of the houses.

As was true last year, many of the Gamma Etas are busy with outside activities. We are proud to have four girls in the U. of M. Chorale this year. Two other girls, both of whom are sophomores, have feature parts in the Roister Doister production, Miranda. We have several Thetas trying out for feature parts in the biggest production ever to be attempted at the U. of M.—Brigadoon.

Gamma Eta gave a sorority neighborhood tea just recently. We met many of the nice families living in our sphere of existence, and they are all truly "neighborly" people.

October BARBARA HILL

Michigan

Eta began the fall semester with the traditional plans for Homecoming. Our display featured a large stork and bore the slogan "We're expecting T'wins." Ann Warnock and Diane Harris were in charge of the project and did a wonderful job. Captain Andy Londes led our black-soxed football team onto the field in the annual clash with Collegiate Sorosis on Homecoming morning. The "scoreless classic" was upset by the victory of Sorosis in the last few seconds of play.

Throughout the fall, Theta has actively gone about the business of playing hostess at open houses after the games, exchange dinners with fraternities, and faculty dinners. We all had an opportunity to become better acquainted with our fellow Ann Arborites at a tea given in their honor in December.

Our festivities for Pan-Hellenic Ball in November included a dinner at the Farm Cupboard before the dance. Mary Lou Porter helped in the planning of the dance as a member of the Central Committee.

Theta has been represented on campus this year by Betty Bridges who heads the sororities for the Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project (a foundation devoted to the study of peacetime uses of atomic energy), and by Ann Warnock and Sue Craig who took part in the elections for J-Hop and Student Legislature, respectively. Ann Stuart and Terry Matheson held positions on the Central Committee for Sophomore Cabaret. Diane Harris, Mary Marsh and Helen Allen also took part in Sophomore Cabaret. We were proud of Myra Moorehouse for being elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Joan Ely and Colleen Kennedy were Homecoming queens for Nu Sig and Phi Rho, respectively. October NANCY J. BENSON

Michigan State

Thetas at M.S.C. are wearing happy smiles. Fall term proved to be a victory term for all of us. Highlighted, of course, was the defeat of two of our greatest football rivals, Notre Dame and University of Michigan.

Added to this excitement was our first place honor in the sorority homecoming display competition. Shelly Hampton and Marilyn Smith, co-art directors, accepted the beautiful first-place trophy as part of the half-time program at the William and Mary game. Our theme was "Carry 'Em Back to Old Virginy" (home of the college) and consisted of two huge sheets of music with a Spartan football player and four alumni figures composing a small chorus. Several Thetas recorded the song with special words and this was amplified from behind the music. As William and Mary students call themselves the "Indians" we had several Indian figures "hiding" behind the music.

Another big football day for Theta was our annual Father's Day, held the Saturday of the Indiana game. Our fathers sat with us in two blocks at the game and then all returned to the house for entertainment and dinner.

The Theta Charity fashion show, with proceeds donated to the Institute of Logopedics, was very successful and much credit goes to the valuable help of the alums. Cindy Fortier, chairman, directed a show centered about a Christmas theme with styles from the Wanda Hancock Dress Shop. Ten actives and five alums modeled. The show was held in the Peoples Church and free refreshments were served.

Theta's place in scholarship has ranked high on campus and our spring term average was again near the top. In sorority competition we took third place honors.

And as for beauty—two of our girls, Nancy Parrott and Sally Gibson, reigned in the Harvest Court at the annual Harvest Ball. Jo Crego, Theta senior, has been appointed chairman of the "Senior of the Week" committee.

New initiates are: Joan Borgerson, Sally Hameline, Barbara Klop, Gail Laffey, Janice Neal, Nancy Parrott, Joan Smith and Suzanne Waldo.

MONA L. HOEDL

Minnesota

The fall calendar for the Upsilon Thetas has been extremely full and busy. Construction was begun on our new house; even a rural mailbox was erected on the lot at 1012 Fifth Street Southeast, Minneapolis.

Rush week was Oct. 6-13. We held our rushing parties in the six month old Phi Delta Theta house. Rushees could look out the window and see a sign on our lot "Watch Theta Build." The Minneapolis and St. Paul alumnæ groups furnished all the food for these parties and certainly helped us make the week successful.

Sunday, Oct. 15, we pledged nine girls at the Phi Delt house: Mary El Amberg, Sue Bros (daughter of Louellen Baker Bros), Peggy Carroll, Sally McCloud, Val Nearpas, Ann Nelson, Betty Oseid, Katherine Peterson and Jeanne Schiedel. Monday night, Oct. 16, after serenading our old neighbors on sorority row, we held an open house at the Delta Upsilon house in honor of our prize pledges.

Scholarship dinner was Oct. 30 at Coffman Memorial Union, our regular meeting place where the active chapter meets for lunch each Wednesday and Friday noon and for dinner and meeting every Monday night. Mrs. Kueffner presented the awards from the Mothers' Club to girls with outstanding scholarship. The award for the senior class was given to Jeanne Brennan, the junior class to Constance Dyregrove, the sophmore class to Jo Moes, and the freshman class to Patty Nelson.

The Mothers' Club is also planning a rummage sale to help raise money for our new house. And the local alumnæ are sponsoring an informal dinner dance on Nov. 18. Thetas, parents, and friends will be invited. Nov. 18 is also the day set to celebrate Dad's Day at a pre-game luncheon.

The climax of the fall social season for the Minnesota campus will be the formal dinner dance to be held at White Pine Inn, Dec. 2.

Alpha Mu Thetas came back to a completely redecorated house this fall. It was certainly nice to rush in the new surroundings. Plaid wallpaper in the boys' lounge is still a topic of campus conversation.

The chapter and Betty Cochran, rush chairman, worked all through rush week with our wonderfully cooperative new District President, Avis Tucker, to land the outstanding pledge class.

Freshmen wearing the Theta pledge pin are: Jean Bunker, Carolyn Busse, Joyce Cummings, Diane Dodsworth, Barbara English, Betty Euwer, Peggy Dell Fry, Mary Jo Hemphill, Beverly Hogue, Jeannine Honefenger, Judith Rose, Barbara Schmidt, Genie Shrader, Sandra Smith and Barbara Whitaker.

Congratulations to Joan Mackey, Sharon O'Hara, Barbara Hansen, June Rowan, Mary Ann Floss and Jackie Britt, who were initiated Oct. 11.

Activity-minded Beverly Hogue, Jeannine Honefenger and Patricia Evans landed jobs with the cheerleading squad.

When the Aggies kicked up hay and toted jugs of cider at their annual dance, Barnwarmin', two Thetas, Barbara Bunker and Barbara Schmidt, served in the Queen's court of four.

Fans line the sidelines to cheer on the softball nine which has walloped two foes to move into the quarter-finals of intra-mural competition.

The chapter entertained Columbia alums at an informal dinner, Nov. 1. After dinner, pledges were given five minutes to prepare a skit. They were rewarded for the performance by a surprise date with the current beau.

October 28

LANG COLLINS

Montana

Under the guiding hand of Jackie Perry, rush chairman, we pledged 24 girls. They are: Shirley Stanaway, Butte; Donna Skelton, Geyser; Susan Travis, Havre; JoAnne Russell, Marcia Chezick, Barbara Dickinson, Janet Hawkins and Donna Lee Skor, Helena; Ann Rawlings, Vivian Sletten and Diane Wetherall, Billings; Jeanine Cogley, Marlene Cresien, Kathryn Lindseth, Margaret Little, Shirley Mashino and Beverly Talbott, Great Falls; Virginia Cowling and Joanne Johnson, Kalispell; Marilyn Foster, Bette Deanne Jones, Beverly Patterson, Pat Schwartz and Valarie Vincent, Missoula.

Pledge officers for this group are Joanne Johnson, president; Donna Skelton, secretary, and Barbara Dickinson, song leader.

After settling down from the strenuous rush season, we installed nine new officers. They are: Joan McMahon, social chairman; Virginia Kerr, corresponding secretary; Pinkie McCallie sports manager; Billie Johnston, librarian; Marilyn Nichol, chaplain; Elizabeth Hart, A.W.S. representative; Betty Rae Wolfe and Elaine Ungherini, assistant marshals, and Eileen Polk, assistant editor.

Oct. 15 was an important date for four girls whom we initiated. They were Donna Engraf, Carol Guthrie, Katherine Hetler and Helen Peterson.

Fraternities began their social life with "Queen" elections and our candidates are Elaine Ungherini, who is a candidate for Phi Sig Moonlight Girl, and Mary Joan Tascher, for Sigma Phi Epsilon Queen of Hearts. Annemarie Beatty from the house and Diane Wetherall from North Hall are Homecoming candidates.

Dramatic castings for the fall play, "Liliom," placed Mary Maurer in the top supporting role. Aquamaids, swimming honorary, chose four Thetas as new members: Marlene Cresien, Janet Hawkins, Shirley Stanaway and Elaine Ungherini.

At present we are deeply engrossed with "Secret Pal Week" which ends this Saturday with the revelation of our secret pals during chapter lunch.

October 27

IRENE STRITCH

Nebraska

Rho chapter started the year with a profitable rush week and a wonderful pledge class of 19 girls. They are: Joan Legge, Mary Ellen Martison, Dorothy Paynter and Nancy Swoboda, Omaha; Jane Carpender, Moneen Chipman, Sally Mallory, Martha Lee Miller, Lois Srb, Jean Thomas and Harriet Wenke, Lincoln; Gracia Eyth, Beatrice; Jane Fletcher, St. Joseph, Mo.; Sue Holmes, Kearney; Sally Lowe, Sidney; Rosanne McLaughlin, Grand Island; Diane Smith, Spaulding; Anne Teigeler, Fremont, and Helen Zierott, Long Beach, Calif.

On Saturday, Sept. 30, we entertained our fathers at a luncheon before the football game. Everyone enjoyed the affair, and the singing we did was especially fun.

We were guests of the Alpha Phi's at an informal picnic supper on Oct. 2. We sang songs and both pledge classes put on an impromptu show.

The annual Panhellenic Workshop was this month with many Thetas taking active part. Meetings, exchange luncheons and officers' conferences kept the girls busy. The week concluded with the Panhellenic banquet.

For the second year under the Foster Parents plan, Rho has made arrangements to support a war child. Each girl contributes to the care of Helena Bos, a thirteen year old Dutch girl.

We have begun work on our house decorations for the homecoming game which is Nov. 4, with Missouri University.

Nevada

Each spring the students at the University of Nevada deck out in old fashioned clothes and honor John Mackay, who was a leader in establishing the university. A Mackay Day Queen is selected, and we are proud that Nancy Hecker was the queen this year. Romona Walker was honored, too, by being toast mistress of the annual Mackay Day luncheon.

Our candidate for the Miss Reno contest is Merrilyn Byrd. Winner of the contest will compete for the title of Miss Nevada, and that winner will represent the state in the Miss America contest.

Before school was out last spring we pledged Lois Lanie of Gardnerville. Then in June we said goodby to nine graduating seniors: Alice Arents, Gwen Byrd, Kay Brenan, Andrea Ginoccho, Nancy Heckerm, Lorie Lothrop, Gedney Gallager, Beverly Leaman and Shirley Mac-Donald LeGov.

This fall, after a week of gay parties, we pledged 25 girls. Pledges are: Andrea Anchart, Barbara Butler, Florence Becker, Dene Caferatta, Joy Daniel, Janis Grodrian, Vanna Grant, Ardis Manford, Jane Rohlfing, Barbara Rohlfing, Barbara Taylor, Elise Valentine and Mary Jane Zunino, all of Reno; Barbara Bussey, Minden; Arlene Cave and Lea Gregory, Elko; Rosemary Cochran, Genoa; Norma Etchegoyhien and Dolores Martinez of Winnemucca; Ruth Fitz and Dixie Fritz, Fallon; Shirley Oldfield, Ely; Blanche Picchi and Geraldine Seaberry, Sparks, and Sally Robear, Golconda. Following the pledging a banquet was held at the Sun Flower.

Just now we are celebrating our winnings of Homecoming. We had an openhouse to introduce our candidate for Homecoming Sweetheart, Elise Valentine. A huge heart with her picture in it, and the slogan, "Choose Your Valentine Early," used her name to carry out the theme, and we are happy to report that she won.

Next came the annual Wolves Frolic at which competitive skits were presented by the fraternities. The four sororities combined efforts, and our representatives on the cooperative skit were Jeanne Fulstone, Mae Gregory and Merrilyn Byrd.

Our float for the Homecoming parade also won. It featured a pair of binoculars, and 14 girls dressed in white satin costumes and holding red lorgnettes. Letters spelled out, "We're Looking at You."

Initiation was held Oct. 15. New initiates are Donna Burton, Marian Cordes, Dorothy Dunbar, Mardelle Leonasio, Nancy Rolph and Donna Sollars.

October 30

ELEANOR FULSTONE

Newcomb

With the opening of the fall term, fraternity organizations shifted into high gear, and Alpha Phi chapter launched one of its most successful rush seasons. Plans made last spring for parties to be given during the 1950 rush season were carried out with amazing alacrity under the direction of our capable president, Frances Aleman, and our two rush chairmen, Marilyn Folse and Pat O'Sullivan.

Our rush started with a get-acquainted tea to which all rushees were invited. The theme of our second party was strictly oriental. The setting was a Chinese temple lavishly decorated with authentic Chinese fans, Buddhas, red and black crepe paper, and red indirect lighting. Thetas set perfect examples of the latest in Chinese fashion, from princesses to coolies.

Our third party was the traditional Theta Wedding, and, in sharp contrast to it, the four concluding teas were presented in a setting from the Gold Rush days. Foamy root beers and hot dogs were served to tired and hungry rushees.

Then on Oct. 1, the efforts of all of us were more than rewarded. Eighteen wonderful girls took the first step toward becoming members. They were: Barbara Connett, Newton, Miss.; Patricia Burdett, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mary Francis and Sarah F. Turner, El Paso, Tex.; Patricia Smith and Patricia Doughtery, Houston, Tex.; Mary Beth Selby, Jackson, Miss.; Lucy Yearly, San Antonio, Tex.; Emily Griffith, Amarillo, Tex.; Mary Kent, Atlanta, Ga.; Kay Henry, Vicksburg, Miss.; Rosalyn Leggett, Midland, Tex., and Joan Wilkerson, Edith Hoffman, Barbara Youngs, Jean Schumacher, Lynn Ott and Barbara Butler, all of New Orleans.

The weekend of Oct. 29 the Alpha Phi chapter held a gala house party across Lake Pontchartrain at the Edge Water Gulf Hotel. As might be expected, the biggest recreation was eating! Also popular were the many sailboats at our disposal.

November 1

EMILY GOSS

New Mexico

Our year started off with the pledging of 12 girls of whom we are very proud. They are: Jeanette Stanton and Marjorie Hester, Santa Fe; Nancy Pence, Martha Hill, Betsy McCullough, Jacqueline Cox and Jean Douglass, Albuquerque; Judi Thompson, Salinas, Calif.; Martha Mastellar and Suzanne Murray, South Pasadena, Calif.; Holly Adler, Winnetka, Ill., and Mary Locke Davis, Peoria, Ill.

New Theta kites were flown on Oct. 8, so now we have seven newcomers in our chapter meetings. They are: Joyce Soderburg, Alpha Stidham, Jacqueline Byron, Jacqueline Quinn, Anne Peterson, Betty Lu Garner and Marion Hutchenson.

We have had a few changes in office this semester. Our new officers are: Sandy Huntington, social chairman; Mary Ann Mitchell, rush chairman; Andy Dinsmoor, corresponding secretary, and Priscilla Brannon, house manager.

Every year Gamma Omicron has given some kind of entertainment at the Veterans hospital here, and this semester we gave the best show yet. The idea was a "Cavalcade of the 1900s," with a three-minute skit for each decade. We started off with the Charleston and ended up with the Charleston, and as a finale we all gathered on the stage and sang and sang and sang. It was hard to tell which group had more fun, the veterans or the Thetas.

On Oct. 21 the alumnæ club here in Albuquerque honored the Mothers' club and the chapter with a tea at the beautiful new home of Mrs. Helen Woods. We also have had two large dances so far this year, our annual formal and a barn dance given jointly with Pi Phi and Kappa.

We are proud of four girls who brought the chapter honors last month. They are Judi Thompson, freshman class vice president, and Patricia Maxwell, Sandy Huntington and Nancy Rhodes, who placed second, third and fourth in the intramural tennis tournament. We also are proud of our three Theta teachers here on campus. Barbara Wykes is teaching English; Patricia Maxwell, art, and Lois Cox, music. October 31

ILSE JENKINS

North Dakota

We have on our list of achievements for the first six weeks of school a brand new decoration job on our upstairs and brand new grey oak furniture in every bedroom. Each room is a different color, with furnished curtains and matching bedspreads and covered chairs. It actually makes room cleaning fun!

Next on the list of achievements are our 12 sparkling pledges. They are: Helen Boher and Barbara Dodd, Riverdale; Gerry Brightbill, Cando; Marlene Fontaine and Elizabeth Smith, Grand Forks; Joanne Frostad, Aberdeen, S.D.; Dorothy Jarmin and Betty Ouradnick, Larimore; Ruth Nelson, Northwood; Adele Stewart, Warren, Minn.; Audrey Swedeen, Rapid City, S.D., and Kathryn Waters, Bottineau.

Although we didn't suit the judges best with our homecoming float, we did show our beauty. Darliss Scidmore was an attendant to the homecoming queen.

One more trophy was added to our shelf after Dad's Day. With a great big black record, plus the slogan, "Lads Like Dads, U.N.D. Recordmakers," we won second place for house decorations.

Lois Burke

North Dakota State

After an exciting summer, Gamma Nu girls found a pleasant surprise this fall: the chapter house had been redone from top to bottom by our most helpful alums.

It was oh, such fun to entertain in these new surroundings during rush week. And our new pledges are oh, so good! They are: Harriet Amble, Lila Lucas and Joan Haberman of Wahpeton; Jane Preuss, Esmond; Merilyn Hansen, Poplar, Mont.; Adele Rene, Neche; Arline Teigen, Grenora; Jeanine Van Berkom, Powers Lake; Marjorie Stoa, Joyce Windom, Janet Vick and Barbara Martin, Fargo; Marlys Neset, Edith Hawkins, Judy Souers and Kathleen Horan, Moorhead, Minn.

We were all proud when Junette Hill reigned as Homecoming queen. She was also chosen "Miss Engineer's Vision" and presided over the Engineers' open house last spring. Another of our beauties, Betty Forbes, was crowned queen of the Barn Dance last spring.

Spring initiates were Janet Wolbert, Barbara Snyder, Marcia Lace, Gail Lohse, Alyce Mitchell, Joan Duncan, Jean Moll, Maureen Frantz, Carol Busch, Janice Bohn and Pat Larson. Marlys Eichmueller was initiated this fall.

Honors again went to our president, Rosemarie Lohse, when she was tapped for Senior Staff, Phi Kappa Phi and Kappa Delta Pi. She is president of Senior Staff and Guidon. New Guidon pledges are Betty Gordhammer and Junette Hill. Anne Whitman and Maureen Chishom were recently initiated into that honorary organization. Anne, Betty and Junette were also initiated into Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics association.

We are now eagerly awaiting the arrival next week of our district president, Mrs. Marvin Schmid.

October 25

Lois Cunningham

Northwestern

Activities, parties, sports—and studies during Fall quarter provided a 24 hour schedule for both actives and pledges. Members of our grand pledge class are: Sue Buckles, Nancy Brehm, Marguerite Bunnell, Faith Burwell, Ann Cantwell, Jane Collins, Pat Erb, Sally Hornbogen, Jane Kroehler, Nancy Lindberg, Kay Longenecker, Sue Mair, Jane Meacham, Claire McGrew, Sally Miller, Jeanne Packard, Joan Rasmussen, Bonnie Roth, Ann Schumacher, Sue Spencer, Claire Sorrels, Lynn Steiner, Faith Steinman, Sue Thompson, Sharon Turner, Marcia Wade, Nancy Ward, Joan Winton and Pat Yates.

Chosen for beauty and her musical talent, Alice Tucker won second place in the all-campus Esquire contest. Two of the busiest girls in the house are JoAnne Sidener and Betty Tanner. Jo has recently been selected Dolphin Show Book Editor and co-chairman of the 1951 Red Cross Drive. She was also publicity chairman of the Shi-Ai Bat (sophomore honorary) Dance of which Betty was co-chairman. Last spring Betty was one of 20 girls elected to Mortar Board and is now its vice president.

Peg Ayars and Faith Steinman modeled in the annual Profile Fashion Fair at which Pat Maguire, Kay Longenecker, and Pat Yates ushered. Twelve Thetas worked on Homecoming groups, and Pat Maguire headed the Art Committee. Jane Meacham will be in the Dolphin Show water ballet in January. In student government Betty Eimers is vice president of Junior Council and Peg Ayars sophomore representative to Student Self Governing Board.

Heading the social calendar was an informal dance for the pledges at the Gripsholm on Oct. 28. Dads had priority for our annual Fathers' Weekend. Dinner at Elliot's Pine Log Inn and the Minnesota game highlighted the occasion. Early in the quarter Alumnæ and our Mothers Club gave a tea for the pledges and their mothers. Another tea was given in honor of our wonderful new housemother, Mrs. Mary Wilson, formerly with the S.A.E.'s at Purdue.

Waitress service replete with entertainment and dishwashers was provided by the chapter at the Chi Psi Lodge. We had been auctioned off at a Student Service Fund Drive. Sunday afternoon Tea Dances with the Betas and A.T.O.'s were also part of the busy program.

Sports, too, have dominated the scene. Spurred on by some excellent athletes in the pledge class, the Thetas reached the hockey semi-finals and speedball finals. With a past record of two victories, the football team has been drilling hard for the annual Pre-Thanksgiving "Turkey Tussle" against the Pi Phis.

Right now one of our prize possessions, besides the beautiful new rugs in the living room and trophy room, is the trophy we won for getting first place in the May Sing last spring. JoAnne Ellmore arranged the selection, a medley of Negro spirituals.

Naturally the most important event of spring quarter is the initiation service, and the actives were proud to place kites on Maryanne Cranz, Joan Dawson, Ellyn Fox, Ann France, Neila Mueller, Kate Smith, Lois Wilson, Mary Ann Durst, Mitzi Unkrich and Eileen Roof. Joan Dawson was named the most outstanding pledge for the year at the traditional Founders' Day banquet on May 24.

Alpha Gamma was very proud to have Mary Jo Klinker named May Queen from a group of ten finalists. The campaigning committee hit upon the idea of calling our candidate "Klinkerella," and skits, dances and costumes were made up to resemble the famous fairy tale.

During May Week our chapter also gained recognition by having its girls win honors. Jean Grimm was named the outstanding senior of the year; Ann Bish and Jane Anderson were tapped for Mortar Board, and Mitzi Unkrich became a Mirrors member.

As a climax to the whirl of spring activities we had our traditional house party before the formal. Our house turned into a tent and we all jumped into circus costumes and let our dates imagine they were seeing an original big top production. Regardless of a very busy day and a chicken dinner, everyone turned out for the fire cracker ceremony at the senior farewell.

Fall rushing was very successful, and we are proud to have an enthusiastic pledge class of 27. They are: Margie Bateman, Joan Brown, Louise Butler, Penny Clemmons, Joan Donley, Ditty Duggar, Carol Dunkel, Joan Gardner, Chloe Hays, Avis Hope, Mary Louise Emmons, Jean Ann Lowry, Alethe McDonough, Nancy McFadden, Rosie Moorman, Shirley Owens, Margie Pfeiffer, Phyllis Plank, Marian Read, Velma Sater, Maxine Scarff, Gretchen Schaefer, June Silsby, Carol Stephens, Mary Stoddart, Marilyn Van Voorhis and Jane Wheeler. Gamma Deuteron, now well in the throes of first semester, has made some changes in the line-up of officers. Ruth Ice, former treasurer, found herself deeply involved as editor of the campus literary magazine, and Jean Orton was elected to take over her duties. Nancy Simons spends much time and energy as a leader in the YWCA, so she is now our chaplain, her former office as corresponding secretary having been delegated to Marilyn McCreary. Juanita Bennett is now librarian, and Joan Flucke social chairman. The last two offices were vacated by girls married last summer.

At Homecoming we were represented by Ginna Nobis and Dottie Huff on the Queen's court. That day we were also pleased to share second place in the sorority float contest with the Pi Phi's and Kappas, our collaborators.

Wesleyan held transfer rush parties in October, and our chapter was proud to pledge Moynan Coe, sophomore, of Cincinnati. Since freshman rushing is to be held between semesters, we find ourselves free to have more parties within the chapter. We began with a dinner at the house cooked by four of us. It was quite successful.

This fall we came back to a brand new house, or practically brand new, that is. The house was redecorated from top to bottom this summer, and we are mighty proud of it.

Fall rush was climaxed by the pledging of 33 girls. New pledges include: Marilyn Beyer, Guthrie; Jerry Brandon, Waurika; Cora Bronough, Holdenville; French Brown, Okmulgee; Mary Ellen Casey, Elaine Fulton and Kelly Grisso, Norman; Virginia Clayborne, Fort Worth, Texas; Pat Davis, Creilly Harman, Virginia Harmon, Ethelyn Mills, Margaret Long, Mary James, Peggy Parrott and Barbara Mee, Oklahoma City; Pat Delaney, Ada; Jane Durand, Hobart; Mary Jean Dustin and Betty Edmondson, Muskogee; Betsy Evans and Ann Hammond, Tulsa; Mary Kay Graham, Blackwell; Barbara McGrew, Beaver; Ann Muldrow and Celia Stanfield, Seminole; Martha Plummer and Joan Wetzel, Bixby; Drew Ann Prewitt, Wycote, Pa.; Judy Regan, Shawnee; Kathie Scanlan, Bartlesville; Jean Walsh, Midland, Texas, and Jane Wilkinson, Ponca City.

Thetas were victorious in their football game with the S.A.E.'s. The score was 18-6. Half-time entertainment consisted of a ukulele band and the crowning of a Sig Alph football "queen." Drew Ann Prewitt, 4 foot 10 inch captain of our team, crowned the queen and presented him with a lovely bouquet of carrots.

Homecoming on Oct. 21 proved to be a gay time. This year the theme was song titles, and ours was "Here Comes the Showboat." A huge boat, depicting the showboats seen on the Mississippi during the late part of the 19th century, decorated the front of the house. The boat had a paddle wheel which churned through water, and smoke blew out of the smokestacks.

Thetas presented a skit with the Betas in the Homecoming Variety show. Theme of the skit was "Songs of Yesterday and Today." The shag, varsity drag and other dances were also presented.

Marjorie Pratt and Frances McCall were initiated as members of Mortar Board last spring, and Marilyn Waller and Adele Blanchard as members of Phi Beta Kappa.

October 28

SARA LOUISE WOODS

Oklahoma State

Fall rush successfully ended with the pledging of 25 girls, including 21 freshmen, two sophomores and two juniors. These girls are: Patricia Abbey, Dallas, Tex.; Barbara Boyles, Anadarko; Marjorie Conner, Susan Ingham, Mignon Langley, Marilyn Morse, Marianne Sears and Shirley Winans, all of Oklahoma City; Ina Crosten, Alice Ann Florey, Susan LaFortune, Azalia McDonald and Mary Alice Sanders, all of Tulsa; Betty Nell Culver, Pawhuska; Barbara Finch, Wilma Laughlin and Joan Zaloudeck, Enid; June Kirchenmeister and Sally Swim, Stillwater; Jacque McKinney and Vesta Rose Taylor, Ponca City; Louise Noble, Okmulgee; Sue Root, Blackwell; Jeananne Runyon, Duncan, and Maureen Taylor, Bartlesville.

On Oct. 14 we entertained our dates at a sock hop in the house. Our president, Nancy Kraemer, and her date won the prize for the snazziest pairs of socks.

Beta Zeta members were proud to initiate Dorothy Warner on Oct. 8. Dot was the city of Enid's representative at the American Royal convention in Kansas City, and was an attendant to the queen.

It is a little off the beat for girls, perhaps, but we have practiced football to be in extra good shape for our "finger bowl" classic. All we are waiting for is a challenge from the Pi Phi's, whom we beat last year, 6-0.

The last weekend in October was our Homecoming, with Missouri University playing here. Our winning float consisted of a long worm which squirmed. The slogan was "Squirm out of this, M.U." The house decorations were a large mammy with three little pickaninnies named Eenie, Meenie and Minie. The slogan was "We Don't Want No Mo."

We have the most beautiful house on the campus; just ask us! Our first floor and basement were pretty to start with, and this summer our second and third floors were entirely redecorated. Each room has its own bright color scheme and new blond furniture.

A. and M. has a new and lavish student union, and many of our activities have been taking place there this fall. We are planning our formal Christmas dinner dance there Dec. 15. Joan Bowker, social chairman, is in charge. October 29

Oregon

Autumn leaves, wet saddle shoes and pledge ribbons remind us that fall term is here again. Alpha Xi chapter is very happy about the honors it received last spring term. Barbara Stevenson was elected president of the Associated Women Students on the campus. Sally Waller was president of the Red Cross drive; Francis Gilmore was elected president of Kwama, sophomore women's honorary, and Jeanne Hoffman was elected president of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary. Donna Mary Brennan was president of Gamma Alpha Chi, national women's advertising fraternity.

Nancy Chamberlin, this year's house president, was Junior Weekend Queen on the campus last spring and the Thetas were all bursting with pride when Nancy was crowned queen of the weekend and reigned over the float, parade, campus picnic, song festival and dance.

Barbara Fagg was taken into Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism honorary. Georgie Oberteuffer was tapped for Phi Theta Upsilon; Diane Bekins and Carolyn were chosen for membership in Kwama, and Jeanne Hoffman and Doris Purvine were taken into Gamma Alpha Chi.

Oregon realized a dream come true with the completion of the Student Union and we felt very honored to have Leslie Tooze elected vice president of the Student Union Board.

Barabara Stevenson was Oregon's delegate to the AWS convention at the University of Oklahoma. She came home with not only many things of interest to tell about the convention, but also stories of the wonderful three days she spent at the Theta chapter while there.

Eighteen is Alpha Xi's lucky number for that is the number of girls pledged at the end of rush week. They are: Sally Haseltine, Barbara Keelen, Sue Rawlinson, Ashle Dixon, Martha Feenaughty (sister of Janet, Alpha Xi), Joan Walker and Nancy Collins, Portland; Connie Seymour, Beverly Moore and Meridith Burch, Eugene; Betty Drummond, Medford; Nancy Miller and Marilyn Power, Salem; Mary Waddell (sister of Elizabeth, Alpha Xi) and Jane Slocum, Lebanon; Ann Laurence, Pendleton; Sue Fitzgerald, Vancouver, Wash., and Marilyn Raefield, San Bernardino, Calif.

The initiation of Patty Wright, took place Oct. 20, and at the same time Margery Wells, transfer from UCLA, and Anne Craig, transfer from USC, were affiliated.

Bright chintz, ruffles, thumbtacks, and ivy suddenly transformed study rooms when Beta Epsilon's members put on their jeans and rolled up their sleeves to prepare for fall rushing and the wonderful year ahead.

The 22 freshmen and three juniors now wearing the Theta pledge pin are: Gayle Adams, Patty Bacon, Nancy Beeman, Norie Brown, Pat Craig, Margaret Dearborn, Ellen Gilfillan, Joan Gustafson, Merlene Johnson, Jean Lazinka, Barbara Lengacher, Sally McCracken, Sharon McCracken, Margaret McGowan, Johanna Mumm, Nancy Nelson, Teddie Norton, Janie Nushbickel, Mary Petersen, Bev Robbins, Sharon Rothlisberg, Dorothy Squier, Val Storkersen, Janet Tully, and Sue Ulrich.

We point with pride to our girls who were chosen for offices and tapped for honoraries last spring. Alpha Lambda Delta chose Audrey Daum, Helen Wrolstad and Nancy Halladay. Pi Kappa Phi added Mary Louise Gilfillan, Bev Hemphill, Jean Baker, Margaret Othus, Helen Findley and Joan Aune to their ranks. Masque and Dagger tapped Bev Waverly, Donna Christopherson, Mary Louise Gilfillan, Rosemary Bigbee and Marilyn Moser.

Joan Aune, Bev Waverly and Mary Louise Gilfillan are now Mortar Board members, and Helen Wrolstad and Nancy Halladay were chosen for Talons. Janet Halladay, Mary Louise Gilfillan and Helen Wrolstad copped three out of four Clara Waldo Awards, and Phi Sigma selected Jean Baker. Phi Chi Theta added Carolyn Couch to its roll, and Janet Halladay and Joan Aune are now members of Omicron Nu. Margaret Othus and Helen Findley were selected for Kappa Delta Phi.

Joan Aune is president of AWS this year, and Marilyn Moser is secretary of the college senior class. Janet Halladay was named Senior Honor Girl and received the Woman of Achievement award in Theta Sigma Phi. Marilyn Ottis' pep placed her on the rally squad, and Helen Wrolstad was honored for her outstanding work in the field of journalism.

With our pledge dance this month, our joint luncheon with the Alpha Xi Thetas, and our Christmas activities to plan we expect to be a busy lot. The gold swimming trophy now in our possession will be ours for keeps if we win the meet for the third year in succession. Splash! Plop! We're off to the pool to practice. October 24

JOYCE GITTINGER

We Beta Etas gave a tea Oct. 6 for our charming new housemother, Mrs. Cartier. Then on Oct. 8 we had initiation for Gail Tinney and Marion Bierley, with a banquet afterward at Heller's.

Rushing began Oct. 15. Our opening tea was a great success, as was all the rest of the two weeks' period if we can judge from the 16 marvelous pledges we now have. We proudly present: Jane Barclay, Dorothy Bateman, Patricia Benson, Carol Christian, Mary Clarke, Patricia Duff, Esther Harrar, Ruth Kindt, Barbara Kuhn, Char Lauth, Janet Loucks, Margie Lewis, Mary Ann Miller, Julie Stevens, Patricia Sweet and Susan Wallworth.

Despite an epidemic of exhaustion from our rushing schedule, we found time to go on a wonderful dinner party Oct. 25. The men's interfraternity track meet, sponsored by the Spiked Shoe club, offered as a prize to the winner not only a plaque but also a real live turkey. Each man's house chose a woman's fraternity to share the spoils with them. The Phi Kappa Sigmas, who won the track meet, had chosen the Thetas to sponsor them, so we got to help consume the prize, a 35-pound bird royally cooked, along with another one, by their chef.

The chapter's congratulations go to Marilyn Rector who was a wonderfully efficient rush chairman. We are grateful, too, for all the new ideas Warren Shafer brought back from Grand Convention.

Beta Phi looks back on last spring with pride for the many honors captured by its members. Among the 20 outstanding women on campus making up the honor arch on May Day were Marilyn Guillet, Anna Keller, Betty Lou Shelly, Elisabeth Taylor and Frances Eshleman. On the same day, the Thetas were represented in the beauty court by Sue Knapp, Joan Dobson and Mary Ann Hanna. A week later, Mary Ann went on to greater heights by being chosen Miss Penn State of 1950. Scholastic success came to Anna Keller, Lydia Barraclough and Marilyn Guillet when they were elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Three days after our return to college this fall, Beta Phi plunged into its rushing activities. It was a strenuous two weeks but the results were terrific! We now boast seven new pledges: Catherine Corbiere, Allentown; Bernadine Fulton, Detroit, Mich.; Barbara Gwin, Altoona; Joan Hertel, Rutledge; Shirley Holloway, Media; Millicent Vickers, Wallingford, and Joan Yerger, Norristown.

We were pleased to have our District president, Mrs. Munz, visit us. Each officer had a conference with her and we all give our thanks for the valuable suggestions she had to offer us.

The chapter started in its social functions by attending a party given by our brother fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta. Everyone had lots of fun especially when two of our alums joined in with the festivities. Theta Xi entertained us at a picnic and treated us to coke, hot dogs and lots of games. We, in turn, gave a Halloween party for the Sigma Alpha Epsilons, complete with costumes and candied apples.

It was wonderful seeing so many of our alums at Homecoming weekend. They enjoyed a box supper in the suite on Saturday, and later in the evening the seniors entertained them with Theta songs.

Icy cold water, wieners and beans, the battle of bridge vs canasta, long hikes and softball games—all this adds up to Alpha Omega's wonderful weekend at Clare Starett's cabin before school opened. It was a grand opportunity for us to catch up on summer doings and to make plans for a bigger and better year.

Last spring saw Alpha Omega shine. With the Spring Festival theme, "Mother Goose," the pledges slaved over house decorations and their "Three Little Kittens" caught the judges' eyes and first prize. Then our "Old Woman who Lived in the Shoe" rolled up the second prize cup in the Float Parade. With the money from the carnival show, we sent underprivileged children to summer camps.

On Tap Day, Peggie Cochrane and Sue Jackson were tapped to Mortar Board, while Carol Smith was one of the Thrysa Amos awardees for outstanding sophomore women. Peggie was also chosen to be a Junior Worthy, a distinction given active juniors by the senior class. Five of our pledges were tapped to Cwens:

Peggy Ann Cohen, who is also vice president, Mary Ann Potter, Molly Purdy, Margaret Scheitinger and Pegge Wallick.

Alpha Omega joined in the Homecoming celebrations October 27-28 for the Pitt-Miami game. We trooped to the rally Friday night en masse and then back to the house for a Halloween party, complete with silly games and apple bobbing. Saturday we held an open house with lots of hot coffee and doughnuts. If only we could have won the game, too!

Pitt Thetas were glad to welcome Jane Sadler, a transfer from Mu chapter, to the campus this year.

Right now we are getting ready for fall rushing on Nov. 12 and practicing madly for the IF-Panhellenic Sing, scheduled for the 30th. October 28

JANET O'HAGAN

Purdue

The U.C.L.A. football game marked Homecoming at Purdue this year. Record-breaking crowds attended the weekend festivities. We had our annual openhouse after the game, and many a "best pledge class' got together again. The 1950 graduating class was back en masse.

The slogan for our Homecoming sign was "We're Brewing the Bruins." The only drawback was that the lights went out on the sign! But, nevertheless, we rated honorable mention.

Panhellenic set aside Oct. 21 and 22 for the openhouse teas given by the women's fraternities for all new women students. About 500 women attended.

We have been working like Trojans on our skit for Varsity Varieties. The name of the skit is "Kiss the Girls Goodby," and the theme is the rivalry between R.O.T.C. and N.R.O.T.C. After try-outs we were delighted to hear that our act had been accepted.

In activities the following girls were selected for junior jobs: Debby Brown and Rita Quinlan, Exponent; Nancy Neff, Debris; Nancy Staggs, activities bureau; Martha Christian, student union, and Shirley Smith and Betty Gardner, student council. Nancy Burchell was elected senior vice president of activities. Nancy Hager was named president of Panhellenic council, and Shirley Shaffner, treasurer of W.A.A.

Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honorary, pledged Betty Shroyer and Pamela Nolan. Colene McDowell pledged Omicron Nu, and Rita Quinlan, Margie Wiggins and Nancy Neff are members of the Women's Press club.

The following girls were initiated last spring: Betty Allen, Mary Ellen Binney, Dorothy Bryson, Deborah Brown, Nancy Daugherty, Katherine Daeshner, Nancy Garber, Barbara Gay, Paula Hoover, Connie Hudson, Sara Lee Meid, Alison Mead, Jane Nickel, Pamela Nolen, Shirley Smith, Betty Schroyer, Dru Somers, Jane Somers, Martha Phillips, Carlotta Pevler and Jean Woeste.

On Sept. 15 rush season began, and for a week some 200 freshmen were entertained at teas and parties. The show at the Theta house opened on Sunday evening and had a hit run of three days, matinees and evening performances. Feature attraction was Ann Frankenburg as the "Theta Girl," ably supported by an all-star Theta cast which had Mary Lib Schmitz as mistress of ceremonies.

On Sept. 23 we welcomed 17 girls into the Theta fold. New pledges are: Elizabeth Byrne (daughter of Mary Leighton Byrne), El Paso, Tex.; Beverly Bintliff (sister of Marjorie Bintliff Johnson), Joan Wier (sister of Mary Margaret Wier Kelsy), Patricia McCall, and Ann Krachy, all of Houston, Tex.; Susan Mayes (daughter of Dorothy Limerick), Birmingham, Ala.; Mary Steele Corley, New Orleans, La.; Patricia McDermott, Winchester, Mass.; Ann Heard and Sally Stout, Tulsa, Okla.; Janet Mc-Daniels, Needham, Mass.; Marilyn Markus, Garden City, Long Island, N.Y.; Sally Keene, Freeport, Ill.; Helen Powell, Baltimore, Md.; Nancy Burke, Manahoy City, Pa.; Millie Holladay, Front Royal, and Ann McIntyre, Lewiston, N.Y.

Last spring two Thetas received beauty honors; Jo Ann Denman and Neva Baine, chapter president, were in the May Court, with Margot Holt serving as assistant chairman of the May Day affair. Neva received another honor this fall when she and Dorothy Sutherland were elected to the beauty section of the yearbook, Helianthus. Then, to crown her laurels, Neva was brought out by the secret society, Am Sam, as was Bess Poledor, one of the Student Government representatives. Other secret society bring-outs are Mary Lou Knerr by the P.M.s and Margo Holt by Snake.

The new president of Sock and Buskin dramatic group is Mary Lib Schmitz, who will have a chance to display her abilities in the forthcoming play, "Goodby, My Fancy." In the cast will be three other Thetas: Bess Poledor, Tricia Unger and Robby Del Denny.

Other elections made Nancy King new president of the senior dorm, DeLean Longley business editor of Helianthus, Dorothy Sutherland another Theta representative to Student Government, and Robby Del Denny secretary of the sophomore class. Recognition came to talented Ann Frankenburg when she won an art contest.

We were glad to welcome as a member Marilyn Dickson, who was initiated Oct. 19.

October 30 VIRGINIA HOLLAND

Rollins

Three weeks after school started, formal rushing got under way with three rush parties. Our parties included a Bowery setting, a pirate theme and our usual preferential garden party, featuring a style show of new fall fashions.

On the day following the preferential we pledged 12 wonderful girls. They are: Gloria Burns, Columbus, Ga.; Allee Chatham, Greenwood, Miss.; Billie Dorney, Tulsa, Okla.; Iris Frye, Gastonia, N.C.; Sally Hopple, Cincinnati; Jane Kottmeier, Orlando; Shirley Sauerbrunn, Clayton, Mo.; Patricia Sheppard, Hanover, Pa.; Valerie Stacy, Milwaukee, Wis.; Becky Strickland, Greenfield, Ind.; Mary Wales, New York, and Sara Whitten, Minneapolis.

As was expected, we all had wonderful summers, but nothing compared to the vacations Bobbie Davis, Virginia Fischbeck and Valerie Stacy spent in Europe. They were envied by everyone! October

(NOT SIGNED)

San Jose

We are an active group this fall at San Jose State. Right now we are preparing for the gala Homecoming parade and functions before the football game with St. Mary's on Nov. 10. Gamma Xi is proud of Alice Daugherity who is first attendant to the Homecoming Queen.

Other Thetas officially registered as 1950 campus lovelies are Kathleen Baird, who was elected "Miss Fashion Plate," and Shirley Van Doren, who won the "Miss Santa Clara County" title for the national contest.

During a successful rush last quarter, we added several outstanding girls. Pledges include: Deborah Andrus, Virginia Bower, Nancy Cuneo, Jacqueline Foster, Jane Irvine, Beth Lou Lundy, Nancy Gibson, Sally Sims and Barbara Sullivan. Also this quarter, two Thetas affiliated with our chapter. They are Barbara Laird, Upsilon, and Carol Tingley, Beta Gamma.

A great stress upon scholarship was put forth in spring quarter. We gave several awards to girls with outstanding records. Katherine Mosher received the scholarship bracelet, and Nancy Childrey was awarded the scholarship plaque. Also, Joyce Lerhbach received the P.B.K. key at California Pharmaceutical college.

Graduating seniors were honored at a grand senior breakfast last June. Those given the traditional silver coffee spoon were: Mimi Cox, Doreen Reavie, Louise Fletcher, Loismae Garibaldi, Janice Fuller, Betty King, Jeanne Lockwood, Nancy Rundle and Lois Topham.

An impressive event for us was our initiation banquet, the first time we had assembled for the ritual and program. The new initiates presented the chapter with sterling silver salt and pepper sets.

We have been occupied, too, with charitable functions. Betty Jean Powell led us in the W.S.S.F. campaign. The pledges are continuing to help the needy in Europe. Theta also has gained recognition on campus for contributing toward the chapel fund, a war memorial. On Oct. 13 we supported a Theta Alumnæ benefit tea.

Through gala Barbecues and informal get-togethers, the girls of Gamma Xi have become increasingly aware of the valuable friendships connected with our fraternity. With the coming holiday season, our calendar is being stretched to hold all of our plans and parties.

October 31

NANCY HARDY

Thetas at South Dakota led off this year with a highly successful rush week. We were pleased to pledge the following girls: Barbara Berguin (sister of Jacqueline), Mary Schumacher, Lois Mienhardt, Dorothy Grundler and Ruth Howalt (daughter of Lucile Seibel Howalt), all of Sioux Falls; Mary Holgate, Mobridge; Ann Whitmore (daughter of Hazel Jacobson), Park Ridge, Ill.; Sally Winter, Vermillion; Jean Nygaard and Elizabeth Krieger, Watertown; Nancy Lees and Joan Mandrey, Aberdeen; Marjory Drey, Scotland; Gloria Schlopkohl and Mary McRoberts (sister of Sara), both of Luverne, Minn., and Kay Smiley, Deadwood.

One of the thrills of rush week was the return of Irene O'Connor, "Miss South Dakota," and first runnerup to Miss America. Irene, a dramatic arts major, received first in the talent division for her recitation of "The Prayer," from Joan of Lorraine. With her return to the University, Irene is continuing her outstanding work in dramatics.

It was announced this fall that Thetas had once again captured the coveted inter-sorority scholarship cup with the highest average of any social group on campus. Our average was 2.948.

Our chapter is happy to have two of our graduates back for post-graduate study. They are Shirley Travis and Barbara Ruhlman.

A University record was broken this year when our own Mary Kay Dake was elected queen of Dakota Day, our homecoming. This makes the second consecutive year that a Theta has reigned, as last year's queen was Joan Pearson. Mary Kay is also editing the college annual, The Coyote.

Initiated into Guidon, national women's auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, were Carol Patton and Irene O'Connor.

Besides our pride in having a Theta as home-coming queen for the second consecutive year, we were also rewarded for many hours of work when our house decorations were adjudged first and our float third in their respective contests.

October 25

Georgia Egan

Southern California

Thirteen "nuggets" are added to our house membership this semester. These prizes we gained from our September rush season are Marilyn Harter, Joan Heineman, Joan Winter, Jeanette Vett, Audrey Hemphill, Mimi Shephard, Nancy Taylor, Marymar Newton, Mary Vidos, Suzanne Shaw, Maureen Collinge, Barbara Burns, and Doryce Taylor (sister of Margaret Taylor, Gamma Rho).

While the new pledges were recovering from the semi-annual presentation of pledges, the old pledges readied themselves for initiation.

A pledge-active party was given Sept. 23 at Diane Sherman's Malibu Beach home. Spaghetti and volleyball were on the menu that night.

Kites were flown by the girls on the fraternity row a few days before their initiation. Receiving their badges on Oct. 29 were Sally Edgar, Bonny Howes, Nancy Raine, Joyce Newcomer, Ann Vierhus, Audrey Dahlinger, and Diane Sherman.

A brunch honoring our pledge class was given by Mrs. L. L. Martin (Dorothy May Taft) and Mrs. Elizabeth Lindsey (Elizabeth Horn) on Oct. 21. The entire chapter listened to our USC-Navy game at Mrs. Martin's lovely home in Brentwood.

Several fraternity exchanges have highlighted our semester's activities. A pre-football dinner with Beta Theta Pi, a "hick" party with Phi Kappa Psi, a dinner-dance with Kappa Sigma, and a Halloween costume party with Sigma Nu have helped to brighten our weekends.

But scholarship has not been forgotten in the social whirl. Our chapter has received an award from Panhellenic for having the highest scholarship for the spring semester, and we are working for the award again this semester.

As usual our "athletes" are on the prowl. We are playing volleyball at the present with other sororities and womens residence halls in hopes of retaining the women's university recreation association trophy this year.

With our grey house newly painted a fresh white with a bright yellow porch, we of Omicron are looking forward to a bright semester.

October 29

JANET MACLEOD

Southern Methodist

Beta Sigma enjoyed a strenuous, interesting and highly satisfactory fall rush. So many desirable girls came to our lovely parties that the business of choosing was difficult, but the rewards were correspondingly high. We proudly announce the pledging of Mina Baker, Joan Brooks, Claudette Cain, Barbara Campbell, Mary Elizabeth Card, Nita Cervin, Shurley Cundiff, Ann Day, Donna Douhit, Ann Duson, Martha Elliott, Glenda Haberle, Sue Hall, Suzanne Hawkey, Mary Ann Heine, Judy Gay, Elizabeth Holden, Joanne Jones and Pat Mullarkey.

Others in our quota of 35 are Marilyn Mc-Mahon, Barbara Muellus, Elaine Phillips, Elizabeth Ann Prideaux, Frances Quinn, Jane Ritch, Fredna Sheppard, Barbara Simpson, Marilyn Soholt, Margaret Vaughn, Jo Ann Whittle, Hildegarde Zieske, Marcella Steves, Ann Whorton and Caroline Wasson.

On Oct. 15 we gave a breakfast honoring Thetas from Oklahoma A and M, Oklahoma State and Texas State, here to see their respective teams play in the Cotton Bowl on the afternoon and evening of the preceding day. Despite the keen four-way rivalry, just under 200 Thetas enjoyed a warm and inspiring fellowship.

Initiation was held on Oct. 29 for Melanie Binford, Carol Dietrich, Clara Galtney, Madelyn Houston, Nancy Nance, Marilyn Post, Joyce Walker and Darleen White. On the following evening the Dallas Alumnæ groups were hosts to the entire chapter at dinner.

The date for ground-breaking is not definitely set, but Mrs. N. J. Harris, tirelessly loyal chairman of the Alumnæ Housing committee, assures us that it will be soon. Beta Sigma owes an incalculable debt of gratitude to our matchless "alums," a debt that will be a legacy to many generations of chapter members.

October 28 ANN YARBOROUGH

Syracuse

Another wonderful year is well under way for the Chi Thetas. Cris Kernan, our rushing chairman, organized a fine schedule of rush parties which resulted in 19 pledges. They are: Connie Beechere, Annalee Bornhofen, Elizabeth Bryden, Patricia Conkle, Jean Dale, Anne Eckert, Patricia Faye, Betty Jane Gliem, Nancy Gliem, Nancy Hoehle, Sally Marshall, Mary Ann Munz, Virginia Noth, Patricia Perry, Patricia Roden, Jane Toey, Anne Tracy, Patricia Turner, Deborah Wallwark.

Joan Turk, Ginny Braybrook, Betsy Zerega, Barbara Healy and Barbara Kelley are keeping us entertained with their tales of their summer escapades in Europe. Joan took moving pictures in Italy, France and Switzerland and plans to show them at some chapter night soon.

Meredeth Jones is living at the Women's

Student Government offices these days. As president of W.S.G., Meredeth is doing a grand job. She also has many other irons in the fire; she is a member of Eta Pi Upsilon, senior women's honorary, and also the head cheerleader. Meredeth was Chi's representative to Grand Convention at Swampscott this past summer.

Jane Schutter and Sue Marsh, two of our juniors, really make quite a pair in their activities on campus. Jane and Sue were both elected to serve as junior clerks on the Women's Student Government, and both have been pledged to Pi Sigma, the national plant science honorary. Chi cheered the football season in with Sue as a new cheerleader.

Barbara Healy is vice president of the Student Union, and member of Eta Pi Upsilon, senior women's honorary. Anne Wohlfarth has recently been pledged to Alpha Kappa Delta, sociology honorary, and to Theta Sigma Phi, journalism honorary.

The Theta's are still holding the positions on the yearbook. Jane Woodruff has taken over as art editor, and on her staff is Nancy Hutton. Shirley Evans is the co-business manager of the book, and Beth Furman is one of the new junior editors.

We are very proud of Dotty Grover who was selected as the National Sweetheart of Sigma Chi fraternity. With all the publicity and fan mail, Dotty is a busy gal but she still is the University's top ranking majorette, leading the Syracuse marching band at all the football games.

We recently welcomed Anne Bergeron, Marylin Fox and Helen Kiely as Theta sisters following an initiation ceremony, Oct. 10.

Added to our fold this fall are two wonderful Theta transfers: Joy Pulver, a sophomore from Ohio Wesleyan, and Barbara Yates, a junior from Carnegie Tech.

October 26

BETH FURMAN

Texas

After having won at the end of last year "the most unique" concession in the annual Varsity Carnival, and "the best all around float" in Round-Up, the homecoming week-end for the University of Texas alumnæ, the Alpha Thetas came back this fall determined to make this year the greatest one they've ever had.

They started it off right, too, by pledging the following 47 girls: Dora McDonald, Alice; Ruth Fulcher, Mary Gunter, and Betty Wheless, Austin, Frances Miller and Bee Wright, Amarillo; Mary Morgan and Genie Mouton, Beaumont; Sally Garrett and Peggy Ogden, Corpus Christi; Nancy Jo Rees, Center Point; Christine Mary Chilton, Mary Grafe, Toy Harding and Pat McLain, Dallas; Mary Louise Ivey, Denton; Joy Chapoton, Louise Fosdick, Rita McDonough and Margaret Mosle, Galveston; Carolyn Cox, Mimi Hill, Nancy Jary, Ann Robinett and Anabel Shotts, Ft. Worth.

Also Diane Lehman, Jane York and Nancy Welsh, Houston; Loey Bass, Kilgore; Amelia Anderson, Longview; Shelly Furr, Lubbock; Barbara Redditt, Lufkin; Dimple Sue Williford, Marlin; Virginia Dyke, Marshall; Sarah Lew Link, Midland; Patricia Hinds, Nacogdoches; Eleanor Luckett, New Braunfels; Pat Miller, Pampa; Loys Gandy, San Angelo; Marjorie Benton, Nancy Dill, Libby Renick and Carolyn Smith, San Antonio; Cathleen Sparks, Taft; Jeta Dell Simons, Del Rose Birdsong and Marietta Watson, Tyler.

On October 4, these girls were initiated: Margaret Bolton, Carol Cullum (daughter of Leila Beall Anderson Cullum, Alpha Theta), Beverley Judson, Norma Leslie, Ann Lyles (daughter of Anna Frances Griffith Lyles, Alpha Theta), Betty Ross, Judy Stewart (sister of Betty Ann Stewart Ratliff, Alpha Theta), and Marion West (sister of Margene West, Alpha Theta).

On the weekend of Nov. 4, when Southern Methodist university plays the University of Texas, the Alpha Thetas will entertain the Beta Sigmas with a luncheon and slumber party. With the addition of air conditioning, made possible by the Houston alumnæ group, we are looking forward to a wonderful new year, the second in our new house.

LAURA MCKEE

Vanderbilt

After an exciting summer for most of us with trips to Convention and tours abroad, we returned to Vanderbilt on Sep. 14. A delightful surprise awaited us at the sorority house, for during the summer part of the downstairs had been re-decorated most attractively by the alumnæ.

Rushing was carried on for three days, and on Sept. 21 we received the exciting news of the names of our new pledge class: Marianna Brown, Alice Casey, Ann Caldwell, Mary Crockett, Lillian Dobson, Charlotte Elliot, Dorothy Farmer, Rachael Gardner, Eugenia Hecker, Nell Lipscomb, Mary Lee McGinnis, Jean Morgan, Elizabeth Nelson, Beverly Nichols, Paula Ridley, Sarah Beverly Smith, Alice Stockell, Margaret Webb and Judy Wertz. That night after pledging the alumnæ prepared a delicious buffet dinner for the actives and the new pledges.

After everyone had started classes and was beginning to get into her schoolwork, we had a slumber party at the house on Sept. 29. Its purpose was to help the actives and pledges get to know each other better, and to provide a good time for all.

Cynthia Braly and Cornelia Goodloe were chosen as our representatives to the Athenians, honorary society for junior women, and the latter was elected to serve as vice president of the organization. Dudley Brown and Mellie Feish were elected to Lotus Eaters, the honorary society for sophomores. Mellie was honored by being chosen president. Last spring Nancy Garrison and Jean Ward were chosen members of Mortar Board, and Jean was elected to the presidency.

Added tribute was brought to the Thetas when Peggy Webb was elected as the freshman representative to the Honor Council of Vanderbilt.

Vanderbilt homecoming and its 75th anniversary were celebrated together on October 21. All of the sororities completed for prizes for house decorations and floats in the parade. Our efforts were rewarded by a cup for first prize for house decorations.

October 28 the chapter went on a houseparty out in the country near White Bluff, Tennessee. We stayed in cabins which belonged to several of the members' families. It was a wonderful chance for all of us to get to see each other.

Our badminton team, composed of Jean Ward and Cynthia Mizell, reached the finals in the intramural competition and won second place.

Have we been working? Oh my, have we! Have we been having fun? Oh, my, have we!

Lambda chapter has been busy, busy, busy planning rush parties, having "open houses," and building a homecoming poster. The first rush party was a Comic Strip party. I wish you could have seen some of the celebrities we had right here in our own chapter house. There were Jiggs 'n Maggie, Mutt 'n Jeff, and the cutest pair of red-headed twins. That's right, Raggedy Ann and Andy. They were just wonderful, to say nothing about Lil Abner!

A Highland Fling brought out some of the most beautiful plaids along with all kinds of talent as a theme for another party. And an artist's Penthouse lent itself nicely as the theme for a formal party.

Our clever homecoming poster brought us first place in the fraternity-sorority competition.

This month we initiated Joan Kopp, Helen Ann Gardner, Hester Brown and Judith Edwards.

Lots of hard work, lots of fun—a most enjoyable fall in Lambda chapter!

NANCY GILSON

Washburn

What a wonderful year we had! By dint of many summer coke dates, light chatter and alumnæ recommendations, we pledged 16 cream-of-the-crop girls. Fifteen of the girls are from Topeka, the lone out-of-town pledge being Doris Reid of Wichita. The Topeka girls are: Phillys Addy, Patty Fink, Annette Huke, Patty Kirbs, Rose Ann Ledford, Nancy Marsh, Janet McEachron, Mary Sue Melly, Sally Morrison, Margaret O'Neal, Connie Scott, Martha Snyder, Joyce Towler, Marilyn Towler and Michele Welty.

The yearly faculty openhouse was held in Whiting Field House Sept. 18. A dance was in progress as we came through the receiving line, and all the pledges danced while their active mothers just stood!

We invited all parents and alumnæ to our own openhouse on Oct. 1. We also invited the heads of the school and other faculty members.

One of our members, Shirley Duckworth, was named "Miss Topeka" and is to go to the American Royal to try for the honor of being queen there. If she wins that honor she will be sent on to Atlantic City later.

Connie Clarke is business manager on the Kaw, our yearbook, and Lorraine Roberts is its associate editor. Joanne Vinaroff is editor of the school paper, the Review, and Nancy Marsh is training to take over the job of directory editor next year.

Theta has two cheerleaders at every game in Beverly Efaw and Marilyn Towler. Both of them have a lot of pep and know how to make the crowd follow them in a yell.

The chapter has decided to cut out its spring formal in order to have a greater number of smaller parties. The first of these is a hayrack ride Oct. 28.

From "Showboat Party" to preferentials, rushing was a tremendous success! Eighteen girls were pledged Sept. 20: Carol Bogan, Jill Hillen, Jane Becker, Eugenie O'Brien, Peggy Peet, Judy Harrington, Janet Long, Mary Ziercher, Joan Broyles, Sally Hubbard, Mary Jane Kenton, Maia Hofacker, Pat Dubose, Gail Grone, Kay Penny, Dorothy Buder, Janis Dillman and Jan Zalesky.

The first week in October the pledges were honored at our fall dance at the Sheraton Hotel when gardenias, smooth music, and colorful formals combined to make it quite a gay evening! The two weeks following were filled with open rush and plans for Homecoming. Pledging for those girls going through open rush took place Oct. 16, when we received Betty Boughton, Joan Conway and Mary Frances Gaylord. The weekend of the 21st, Homecoming, began with a bang when, on Friday night, amidst the excitement of a roaring bonfire, a booming band, and a tremendous crowd of people, Betty Sue North was recognized as one of the four maids chosen to attend the queen.

The parade on Saturday morning was the most colorful part, when 35 floats wound their way through the streets of St. Louis for two hours. Theta's float had for its theme: "Sleigh 'em!"—with a large sleigh, two white reindeer, crepe paper snow, evergreen branches, and three Thetas in bright red costumes as the feminine interest. When we were announced, at the half at the game, as the winner, it was the most exciting moment that Thetas could remember. The trophy is kept carefully shined and guarded in the chapter room.

Last on the social calendar was the fall houseparty which took place at Fox Springs the weekend of Oct. 28.

We have been fortunate to receive as transfers Ann Berry, from Lawrence; Pat Galbreath, from New Mexico; Barbara Edwards, from Northwestern, and Nancy Mitchell, from Missouri.

Athletics find Emma Lou Behrens, Kay Penny, Mary Jane Kenton and Janet Johnston on the college varsity hockey, and a large group of sturdy members out practising for the football game to be played against Pi Phi. Theta was tops last year (at least, lucky) when the rousing game ended with a 0-0 score, and we won by the toss of a coin. Sigma Chi is confiding several wicked plays to us, so we are all very hopeful.

Alpha Lambda is boasting about the 31 new pledges proudly wearing the black and gold. Thanks to the efficient organization of rush chairman Dee Carlo, these girls are now prospective sisters-under-the-pin: Corine Agnew, Barbara Anderson, Marilyn Aspen, Ann Bernard, Anita Burke, Bea Cutler, Barbara Ann Marshall, Rhoda Moore, Jane Osterhout, Ann Saberhagen, Glenda St. John, Ann Van Arsdel, Barbara Thomas, Mary Beth Welch, and Lorrie Wood, all of Seattle; Janice Keller, Snoqualmie; Jean Kropf and Debbie St. John, Tacoma; Molly Middleton, Aberdeen; Margaret Newgard, Chehalis; Joanne Paton, Cashmere; Jean Ross, Highline; Sally Mounsey, Karen Soderberg, Pat Bolger and Maureen Dullanty, Spokane; and Jane Selby, Vancouver. From out of state are: Anabel Baldwin, Punaho, Hawaii; Ann London, San Francisco; Peggy Mac-Gougan, Monrovia, Calif., and Nancy Salt, Portland, Ore.

Homecoming Nov. 4 is claiming the talents and enthusiasms of many Thetas, including Molly Forler and Harriet Hill, chairmen of the house display. Assistants are Joann Newsome, Mary Beth Welch, Christy McCaskill, Carole Zimmerman, Babs Wakeman, Ludy Agnew, and Ava Lee Latimer. Working on the university homecoming are Nell Budinger, secretary, Betty Latimer, choir chairman, and Mary Budinger, Jean Ross, Sue Jahnke, and Marilyn Kropf.

Thetas are still glowing over the "friendship campaign" which put Ann Cavin in the office of student-body secretary, the highest office held by a girl.

Thetas are second in scholarship after leading last fall. Girls pledged to different scholarship honoraries are Mary Lou Zimmerman and Ann Kellogg, Sigma Epsilon Sigma; Janie Ecklund, Psi Chi, and Ruthe Bailey, Sigma Iota Pi.

Marilyn Kropf and Betsey Lindsay won the sophomore ring and freshman cup at Senior Breakfast for being inspirational Thetas.

Kathy Fauntz is working hard on the Hobo Hop pledge dance, while Joan Baldwin and Helen Christianson are making the arrangements.

We are all delighted to know Irene Finikoff, the French student who is doing graduate work under the sponsorship of our chapter. She is charming, intellectual and lots of fun.

Alpha Sigma had a busy spring this year. "Brigadoon" was the theme of our spring formal, which was given April 22. The theme was carried out with mystical flower trees and Scotch plaids.

May 5 found us occupied with our annual musicale. We presented Mrs. Harry Rymond, an alumna from Spokane, who gave us a book review of "South Pacific."

Joan Hane and Peggy Smith were chosen for the outstanding senior awards. Peggy also became a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Juniors Lorraine Glover and Charlotte Friel were tapped for Mortar Board and for Theta Sigma Phi. Charlotte, in addition, was chosen editor of Evergreen for this year and became a new member of National Collegiate Players. Pat Sheely was elected junior greek woman on the board of control. Rosemary Eschbach is the new Spur president. Nancy Graham was a Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl finalist. Jean Meese and Beverly White are newly elected members of Orchesis.

On May 20, Alpha Sigma climaxed the year with its annual senior banquet. A representative of each class presented a speech and the class will and prophesy were read.

BETH FOLSOM

Eight girls were welcomed into Gamma Epsilon on Sept. 29 when we pledged Betty Jane Bonser, Lois Fulton, Joan Gillies, Helen Hart, Calla Janes, Shirley Minshall, Joan Smitheram and Lois Stokes.

Pledge Sunday, Oct. 1, was observed by a dinner following church and a grad tea in the afternoon. Our alumni were as pleased with the new pledges as are the actives.

Those living in the house were delighted to find the new refrigerator awaiting them on their return to university this fall. This latest addition adds to the "new look" in the kitchen which was started with the new stove last year. Last year's graduating class give us a lovely record cabinet which matches the furniture in our living room.

The actives had a surprise at their first meeting of the year. The Huron college sophomores brought their "worms" (freshmen) to serenade the Thetas.

Our delegates to Grand Convention are still talking about the wonderful sisters they met and the marvelous time they had. They brought back many ideas that sound good to us. The delegation from Gamma Epsilon to the next convention will be a large one if the present actives have any say.

BARBARA WYATT

William and Mary

After a wonderful summer, we all descended once again on the house full of ideas and enthusiasm for the new semester.

We still had pleasant memories of various honors which came our way at the end of last year. Mary Ellen McCloskey, who is a vivacious drum majorette, was elected Queen of the Freshman Class, and Nancilyn Miller was chosen by the Kappa Sigmas as their Sweetheart. We started the year out right, too, with June Compton chosen Sweetheart of Lambda Chi Alpha.

We are also very happy to announce the initiation this fall of Katherine Thorpe.

The year so far has been full of activity including a very successful Homecoming at which time we were glad to see a great many Theta alumnæ. We recently had the first in our series of educational programs for the year, which in the past have proved to be very interesting and have enabled us to become better acquainted with professors from various departments in the college. We also have started exchange open houses for the fraternities on campus, which began with an after dinner coffee for the Kappa Sigmas. We will follow it up with open house for the Kappa Alphas in a few weeks.

Formal rushing will begin Nov. 26 but we have all been hard at work getting to know the new girls and have high hopes for a good pledge class.

We are looking forward to a visit very soon from our new District President, Bobette Steely Cook, a member of our own chapter. We are all behind her and know that she will do a grand job.

BETSY GRAVES

Wisconsin

Psi chapter began the fall semester with the pledging of 24 superb girls. The following are our new pledges: Mary Alexander, Marilyn Bruss, Mitzi Foryth, Mary Jane Holley, Betty Johnson, Jane Kelbe and Willa Widerborg, all of Wauwatosa; Patricia Clardy, Margaret Mortensen and Mary Ann Pohle, Madison; Jean Culbertson, Glencoe, Ill.; Kathlene Culhane, Rockford, Ill.; Margaret Des Rochers, Evansville.

Also, Molly Ekstrom, Ironwood, Mich.; Jeanette Gerdes, Quincy, Ill.; Marion Grillhoesl, Marjorie Johnson, Joanne Langjahr, Sue Lawrence, Marjorie Lund and June Verhulst, all of Milwaukee; Staphanie Keim, Evanston, Ill., and Mary Miller and Sara Voelker, Racine.

Wisconsin Thetas shared the limelight on campus Oct. 27, with Wisconsin's lettermen, the "W" Club. The football, track, and baseball stars challenged us to an "Egg Hop." The event was held between Friday afternoon classes at a prominent place on campus.

The terms of the contest were that if the Thetas won, the men would have to wear Theta beanies for a week. If we lost, we would have to wear the men's letter sweaters for a week.
